INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

1. We are dependent on our suppliers for uninterrupted supply of Raw-Materials. Any shortfall in the supply of our raw materials, or an increase in our raw material costs and other input costs, may adversely affect the pricing and supply of our products with subsequently having an adverse effect on the business, results of operations and financial conditions of our company.

Our business depends on the timely procurement of key materials, including diamonds, gold, silver, precious and semi-precious gemstones and other jewellery-related components required for our designer diamond jewellery collections. The availability of such materials at acceptable prices, required quality standards and within expected timelines is important for our product development, inventory planning and retail operations.

Any disruption in supply, delay in delivery, quality inconsistency or significant increase in procurement costs may affect our ability to maintain adequate inventory, introduce new designs, meet customer demand and manage pricing effectively. The prices of diamonds, gold and other precious materials are subject to volatility due to domestic and international market conditions, foreign exchange movements, changes in duties or taxes, demand-supply factors and regulatory developments. Any adverse movement in such prices may increase our input costs and working capital requirements.

Further, we procure a significant portion of our materials from certain suppliers based on quality, reliability and commercial terms. Any inability of such suppliers to meet our requirements, or any disruption in our relationship with them, may require us to identify alternate sources, which may not be available immediately or on comparable terms. This may result in higher procurement costs, delay in product availability, impact on margins and disruption in our business operations.

The following table sets forth the concentration of purchases from our top suppliers for the periods indicated:

(Rs. In Lakhs)

Any inability to procure materials of required quality, quantity and pricing, or any adverse development affecting our key suppliers or supply chain, may adversely affect our inventory availability, margins, business operations, financial condition and results of operations.

2. Our business depends on our ability to maintain relationships with existing customers and attract new customers. Loss of relationship with any of these customers or a significant reduction in purchases by any one or more such customers could adversely affect our financial performance.

Our business is dependent on our ability to maintain relationships with existing customers, generate repeat orders and continuously attract new customers through our retail boutique and brand presence. Jewellery purchases are influenced by customer preferences, discretionary spending, occasions, trust, product design, quality, pricing and overall customer experience. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that our existing customers will continue to purchase jewellery from us at historical levels or at all.

The following table sets forth the concentration of Revenue from operation from our top customers for the periods indicated:

(Rs. In Lakhs)

10.	Top 10 Customer	27.18	0.59%	25.37	1.08%	23.21	1.00%

Any loss of relationship with key customers, reduction in repeat purchases, inability to attract new customers, decline in customer footfall or failure to meet customer expectations in terms of design, quality, customisation, pricing or service may adversely affect our sales and profitability.

Further, our customers are not under any obligation to continue purchasing jewellery from us. Any change in customer preferences, market conditions, discretionary spending patterns or competitive environment may impact purchase decisions. If we are unable to retain our existing customer base and expand our customer reach, our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations may be adversely affected.

3. We generate our major portion of sales from our operations in certain geographical regions especially, Chandigarh. Any adverse developments affecting our operations in these regions could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.

We generate a significant portion of our revenue from customers located in Chandigarh. Accordingly, our business performance is substantially dependent on the economic conditions, customer demand, consumer preferences and market environment prevailing in this region.

The following table sets forth the state-wise revenue generated by our Company for the financial years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024:

(Rs. In Lakhs)

Any adverse developments in Chandigarh, including economic slowdown, reduced discretionary spending, changes in customer preferences, increased competition, regulatory changes, infrastructure constraints, law and order issues, natural calamities or disruption in local market conditions, may adversely affect our sales, customer footfall, cash flows and results of operations.

Our concentration in Chandigarh exposes us to risks associated with regional market conditions, and any sustained adverse conditions in Chandigarh may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Such concentration may also limit our ability to diversify risks associated with regional market conditions. In the event we seek to expand into other markets, we may face challenges relating to local customer preferences, competitive intensity, brand recognition, operating practices, regulatory requirements and the establishment of customer relationships. There can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully replicate our business model or achieve similar levels of customer acceptance in other regions, and any failure to do so may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Any inability to reduce our dependence on Chandigarh or effectively respond to adverse developments in this region may adversely affect our business prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

4. A significant portion of our revenue has historically been generated from the sale of Solitaire and Diamond Jewellery. Any reduction in demand for this product category could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our revenue has historically been concentrated in the Solitaire and Diamond Jewellery segment, which contributed 96.31%, 89.82% and 66.96% of our total sale of products for Fiscal 2024, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2026, respectively. Although the contribution from Gold Jewellery has increased in Fiscal 2026, our business continues to derive a substantial portion of its revenue from the Solitaire and Diamond Jewellery segment.

Following is the break-up of the segment-wise revenue generated for the financial year ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024:

(Rs. In Lakhs)

Particulars	March 31, 2026		March 31, 2025		March 31, 2024
	Revenue	%	Revenue	%	Revenue	%
Solitaire and Diamond Jewellery	3,071.74	66.96%	2,112.94	89.82%	2,233.86	96.31%
Gold Jewellery	1,458.60	31.80%	239.53	10.18%	85.51	3.69%
Silver Coins	57.01	1.24%	-	-	-	-
Total	4,587.35	100%	2,352.47	100%	2,319.36	100%

Demand for Solitaire and Diamond Jewellery is influenced by various factors, including consumer preferences, discretionary spending, economic conditions, changes in fashion trends, fluctuations in diamond prices, and competitive market dynamics. Any decline in demand for this product category, inability to adapt to changing consumer preferences, or failure to successfully diversify our product portfolio may adversely affect our sales, profitability, cash flows and overall financial performance.

The Company cannot assure that the increasing contribution from other product categories will continue or adequately offset any decline in revenue from Solitaire and Diamond Jewellery.

5. Our substantial inventory levels and prolonged inventory holding periods may adversely affect our working capital requirements, cash flows and profitability.

Our business requires us to maintain an assortment of diamond jewellery, solitaires, gemstones and precious metal jewellery across designs, specifications and price points to cater to customer preferences. Our inventories amounted to ₹4,358.15 lakhs, ₹2,459.56 lakhs and ₹2,349.27 lakhs as at March 31, 2026, 2025 and 2024, respectively. Our inventory holding periods, as disclosed in our working capital assessment, were 347 days, 382 days and 370 days for the corresponding financial years, respectively. Maintaining such inventory entails substantial deployment of funds for extended periods and increases our working capital requirements.

Our ability to sell inventory within the anticipated period and at expected prices depends on customer demand, prevailing market conditions and continued our product offerings. Changes in consumer preferences, lower-than-anticipated sales or adverse fluctuations in diamond and precious metal prices may result in slower inventory movement and further extension of holding periods.

Although we have not experienced any instances of material inventory obsolescence or inventory write-downs during the past, there can be no assurance that such instances will not arise in the future. Further, any increase in inventory to support our proposed expansion without corresponding growth in sales may result in additional funds remaining tied up in unsold stock. Any inability to manage inventory efficiently may constrain our liquidity, increase our dependence on external financing and associated finance costs, and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

6. Our Company did not have BIS registration for its sales outlet for a certain period, and any adverse action in this regard may affect our business, reputation and results of operations.

Our Company is engaged in the retail sale of diamond jewellery, where precious metals such as gold, Platinum and silver are used for setting diamonds and gemstones. Under the Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts Order, 2020, jewellers / sales outlets dealing in hallmarked gold jewellery are required to obtain registration from the Bureau of Indian Standards ("BIS").

Our Company had not obtained BIS registration for its sales outlet during the period from September 22, 2022 to April 8, 2026. However, during the said period, the gold jewellery sold by our Company was hallmarked and bore Hallmark Unique Identification ("HUID"). Notwithstanding the sale of hallmarked jewellery, the absence of BIS registration for the sales outlet during the aforesaid period may be considered as non-compliance with the applicable provisions of the Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts Order, 2020.

In order to regularise the matter, our Company has filed an application in Form A before the Compounding Authority, Regional Office, Bureau of Indian Standards, Chandigarh, seeking compounding of the alleged offence upon payment of the prescribed compounding fees. The said application is pending before the competent authority and, as on the date of this Offer Document, no further communication or order has been received by our Company in this regard.

There can be no assurance that the compounding application will be accepted or that the matter will be resolved within the expected timeline. In the event the application is rejected or any regulatory / penal proceedings are initiated, our Company may be required to pay penalties, fines or incur additional compliance costs. Any adverse order, delay in resolution or regulatory action in relation to this matter may affect our reputation, investor perception, business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

7. Certain delays, discrepancies and Omissions have been detected in our statutory records, as well as in records related to the submission of returns to the concerned Registrar of Companies.

In the past, there have been some instances of delays, discrepancies and Omissions in our statutory records, as well as in records related to the submission of returns to the concerned Registrar of Companies which includes inadvertently filed incorrect information in the forms filed with the Registrar of Companies. While our Company has taken corrective measures such as to avoid recurrence, we have strengthened our compliance framework by engaging full time qualified company secretory, implementing monitoring systems with due date alerts, conducting periodic internal reviews, and standardising filing processes. These measures are aimed at ensuring timely and accurate compliance in future, there can be no assurance that such lapses will not occur in the future. Any such non-compliance may invite monetary penalties, additional fees or punitive action by regulatory authorities against our Company or its Directors/Officers.

These actions could adversely affect our reputation, divert management's attention, and result in financial outflows. In addition, any punitive action may impair our corporate standing and credibility with regulators, investors, banks, customers and other stakeholders. For our present shareholders, such penalties could impact returns on investment, and for prospective shareholders, they may create uncertainty regarding the robustness of our compliance framework. Consequently, such events could materially and adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, results of operations, reputation, and the interests of our shareholders.

As per relevant provisions of present Companies Act, 2013 all the respective instances that have been provided below:

All forms have been duly filed. Due to delays in filing certain forms, additional fees were paid; however, compliance has been completed and no penalty has been imposed.*

However, it cannot be assured that even in future no such penalty will be levied. Therefore, if the authorities impose monetary penalties on us or take certain punitive actions against our Company or its Directors / Officers in relation to the same, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

Note: Any penalty, if levied by the appropriate authority in relation to the aforesaid matter, shall be borne out of the internal accruals of the Company and shall not, under any circumstances, be funded from the IPO proceeds, including the GCP amount.

8. There are certain discrepancies and non-compliances noticed in filing of returns and deposit of statutory dues with the taxation and other statutory authorities in the past. Any delay in payment of statutory dues by our Company in future, may result in the imposition of penalties, which could adversely impact our financials.

In the past, our company has at several instances, delayed in filing returns and deposit statutory dues with regards to TDS, TCS and ESIC as a result of which, we have been required to pay the late filing fees along with interest on delayed deposit of due taxes and statutory dues, if any. (1) There have been no instances of delayed payment of GST or delayed filing of GST returns by the Company during the relevant period,

(2) There have been no instances of contingent liabilities for financial years ended March 31st, 2026, March 31st, 2025 and March 31st, 2024.

All forms have been duly filed. Due to delays in filing certain forms, additional fees were paid; however, compliance has been completed and no penalty has been imposed.

Note: Any penalty, if levied by the appropriate authority in relation to the aforesaid matter, shall be borne out of the internal accruals of the Company and shall not, under any circumstances, be funded from the IPO proceeds, including the GCP amount.

While our Company has paid the interest, as applicable on delays in payment of these statutory dues and no such dues are outstanding as on date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we are in the process of improving the administration. In addition, while no actions have been initiated against our Company in relation to the abovementioned delay. While our Company has taken corrective measures such as to avoid recurrence, we have strengthened our compliance framework by engaging full time qualified CFO, implementing monitoring systems with due date alerts, conducting periodic internal reviews, and standardising filing processes.

Further, we cannot assure you that such non-compliances will not occur in the future. Therefore, if the concerned authorities impose monetary penalties on us or take certain punitive actions against our Company or its directors/ officers in relation to the same, our business and financial condition could be adversely affected.

9. Any fluctuation in the prices or availability of diamonds, gold and other precious materials may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Diamonds, gold and other precious and semi-precious materials form a key component of our diamond jewellery products. The prices of diamonds, gold and other precious materials are subject to fluctuations due to several factors, including global commodity prices, foreign exchange movements, demand and supply conditions, import policies, geopolitical developments, inflation and overall market sentiment.

Any significant increase in the cost of diamonds, gold or other precious materials may increase our procurement and product development costs. While we may seek to pass on such cost increases to customers, there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so fully or in a timely manner, without affecting demand or margins.

Further, any decline in the prices of diamonds, gold or other precious materials may impact the value of inventory held by us and may require us to adjust pricing, which could affect our profitability. Any disruption in availability or supply of such materials may also impact our ability to maintain adequate inventory and offer products in line with customer demand.

Accordingly, any material fluctuation in prices or availability of diamonds, gold and other precious materials may adversely affect our business operations, inventory value, margins, financial condition and results of operations.

10. We have experienced negative cash flows from Operating and investing activities in the past.

We have experienced negative cash flows from operating activities in the past and negative cash flows from investing activities in certain periods. There can be no assurance that we will not experience negative cash flows in the future. The following table sets forth our net cash inflow / outflow from operating, investing and financing activities for the periods indicated:

(₹ in Lakhs)

Particulars	March 31, 2026	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024
Net cash flows generated/ (used in) from operating activities	(670.34)	(83.62)	(9.81)
Net cash flows generated/ (used in) investing activities	(27.68)	(107.20)	-
Net cash flows generated/ (used in) financing activities	698.25	170.48	59.93
Net increase/(decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	0.24	(20.34)	50.11

Our cash flows have varied across periods primarily due to the nature of our business, which requires deployment of funds towards inventory, product curation and other working capital requirements. For Fiscal 2026, our net cash outflow from operating activities was mainly attributable to increase in inventory and other working capital components to support our retail operations, introduction of new designs and anticipated business requirements.

As a diamond jewellery retailer, we are required to maintain suitable inventory across designs, categories, price points and occasions in order to meet customer preferences and support sales. Accordingly, timing differences between inventory procurement, sales realisation and payment cycles may result in temporary pressure on operating cash flows.

Our cash outflows from investing activities were primarily towards fixed assets, furniture, fixtures and boutique-related infrastructure requirements. Further, our financing cash flows mainly reflect borrowings and other funding arrangements used to support working capital and business operations.

While these cash flow movements are aligned with our business model and growth requirements, there can be no assurance that similar cash flow fluctuations will not arise in the future. Any inability to efficiently manage working capital, inventory levels or financing arrangements may adversely affect our business operations, financial condition and results of operations.

For further details, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Cash Flows" on page 218 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

11. Our Company requires significant amounts of working capital for continued growth. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements may have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

Our business is working capital intensive, particularly on account of the requirement to maintain adequate inventory of designer diamond jewellery across various product categories, designs, price points and customer preferences. A significant portion of our funds is deployed towards inventories, trade receivables and other current assets to support our retail operations and growth requirements. As per our Financial Statements, our total working capital requirements were ₹3,315.53 lakhs, ₹1,519.18 lakhs and ₹1,060.14 lakhs as of March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 respectively.

^ Number of days are lower rounded off.

*Internal Accruals include funds raised from Issue of shares, cash accruals for the year and short-term debt, if any.

Our working capital cycle is influenced by various factors, including inventory levels, product mix, procurement costs, supplier credit terms, payment cycles, customer demand, seasonal trends, wedding and festive demand, and overall growth in our retail operations. Since our business is inventory intensive, any higher-than-anticipated inventory build-up, slower inventory movement, increase in diamond or precious metal prices, reduction in supplier credit period or mismatch between inventory planning and sales realisation may increase our working capital requirements.

As we expand our scale of operations, we may be required to maintain higher levels of inventory to support customer demand, product availability and curated design collections. Any inability to accurately estimate demand or manage inventory levels may result in additional funding requirements, higher finance costs or slower deployment of capital.

We propose to meet our working capital requirements through a combination of internal accruals, existing banking arrangements, borrowings and a portion of the Net Proceeds. However, there can be no assurance that such funding will be sufficient or available in a timely manner, or on commercially acceptable terms. Any inability to obtain adequate working capital or manage our working capital cycle efficiently may adversely affect our inventory availability, retail operations, growth plans, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

12. We may not be able to protect our trademark "OMARA" from infringement.

We have applied for the registration of the "OMARA" brand name as a trademark under the Trade Marks Act, 1999 in India. While we actively monitor for potential infringements, there is a risk that third parties may misuse or violate our trademark rights, which could harm our reputation and commercial interests. Additionally, we do not currently have intellectual property rights over our brand logos OMARA and OMARA which remains unregistered despite our application for registration under class 14 with the Registrar of Trademarks, which is under the process for registration. The absence of a registered logo exposes us to potential misuse, which may negatively impact our business prospects, reputation, and goodwill. We cannot guarantee successful registration of our trademark or logo, nor can we assure that third parties will not infringe upon our intellectual property. Enforcement against such infringements could be expensive, time-consuming, and may result in insufficient remedies for any damages we incur.

Approvals Obtained/Applied in Relation to Intellectual Property Right (IPR):

13. We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest.

In the ordinary course of our business, we have entered into transactions with our related parties, including our Promoters, Directors, Key Managerial Personnel, Promoter Group and other related parties, and may continue to enter into such transactions in the future. These transactions have included loans received, repayment of loans and other business or financial transactions.

While we believe that our related party transactions have been undertaken on an arm's length basis and in the ordinary course of business, there can be no assurance that more favourable terms would not have been available had such transactions been entered into with unrelated third parties.

After listing of our Equity Shares, all related party transactions will be undertaken in accordance with applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable laws, including approval of the Board, Audit Committee and/or shareholders, wherever required. However, such transactions may involve potential conflicts of interest and there can be no assurance that any existing or future related party transactions, individually or in aggregate, will not adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

For details of our related party transactions for the financial years ended March 31, 2026, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024, please refer to "Restated Financial Statements – Related Party Transactions" on page 205 under the chapter titled "Restated Financial Statements" on page 205 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

Note-All related party transactions are carried out at Arm's Length Price (ALP). Further, list of the related parties and all related party transactions, are disclosure under AS 18 and / or as covered under section 188(2) of the Companies Act, 2013 (as amended), SEBI (LODR) Regulations and other statutory compliances. However, there have been no conflicts of interest among our equity shareholders in relation to the related party transactions entered into in the past.

14. We have not commissioned an industry report for the disclosures made in the section titled 'Industry Overview'. These disclosures are based on publicly available data from the internet, which has not been independently verified by us.

We have neither commissioned an industry report, nor sought consent from the quoted website source for the disclosures which need to be made in the section titled "Industry Overview" beginning on page 126 of this Red Herring Prospectus. We have made disclosures in the said chapter on the basis of the relevant industry related data available online. We have not independently verified data from industry publications contained herein and although we believe these sources to be reliable, we cannot assure you that they are complete or reliable. Such data may also be produced on a different basis from comparable information compiled with regard to other countries. Due to possibly flawed or ineffective data collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced elsewhere and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, we cannot assure you that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy, as the case may be, elsewhere. Accordingly, investors should read the industry related disclosure in this Red Herring Prospectus in this context.

15. There is no monitoring agency appointed by Our Company to monitor the utilization of the Issue proceeds.

As per SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018, as amended, appointment of monitoring agency is required only for Issue size above ₹ 5000.00 Lakhs. Hence, we have not appointed any monitoring agency to monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds. However, the audit committee of our Board will monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds in terms of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. Further, our Company shall inform about material deviations in the utilization of Issue proceeds to the stock exchange and shall also simultaneously make the material deviations / adverse comments of the audit committee public.

The utilization of the Issue Proceeds shall be monitored by the Audit Committee of our Board in accordance with the SEBI Listing Regulations. However, any delay, deviation or variation in the utilization of the Issue Proceeds, or any inability of the Audit Committee to effectively monitor such utilization, may adversely affect our business operations, financial condition and investor confidence.

Our Company shall disclose material deviations, if any, in the utilization of Issue Proceeds to the Stock Exchange and shall also make public any material deviations or adverse comments of the Audit Committee, in accordance with applicable laws.

16. Orders placed by customers may be delayed, modified or cancelled, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

16. Orders placed by customers may be delayed, modified or cancelled, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may encounter difficulties in executing customer orders or in meeting committed timelines. Factors beyond our control or the control of our customers, such as delays in raw material supply, changes in customer specifications, or other unforeseen circumstances, may result in postponement or cancellation of orders. In certain cases, customers may also modify the scope or schedule of delivery at their discretion, which could affect our ability to predict revenue recognition with certainty.

Delays in execution may result in customers withholding, delaying, or refusing to make payments, either in part or in full. In addition, even where orders are delivered on schedule, there can be no assurance that customers will not default or fail to meet their payment obligations. While we have not experienced any material adverse impact on our business, financial condition or results of operations as a result of delays or cancellations in the past, there can be no assurance that such delays or cancellations will not occur in the future or that their impact will not be material. Any significant or prolonged delay or cancellation may adversely affect our operations, including the timely execution or completion of our projects, delivery of products or services, customer relationships and cash flows. Such events may also result in additional costs, rescheduling expenses, loss of business opportunities, contractual disputes or claims, and may adversely affect our reputation and financial performance. Further, the nature, extent and duration of any such impact may vary depending on the circumstances and our ability to mitigate the resulting risks. Accordingly, any recurrence or escalation of such delays or cancellations could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

17. Our Business is Dependent on the Success of Our Design and Concept Development, and Any Inability to Adapt to Changing Consumer Preferences May Adversely Affect Our Results.

Our business is significantly dependent on our ability to conceptualise, curate and offer designer diamond jewellery that appeals to the preferences of our target customers. Jewellery buying decisions are influenced by several factors, including design, occasion, fashion trends, cultural preferences, customer perception, exclusivity and price points. Accordingly, our success depends on our ability to understand evolving customer preferences and introduce designs that remain relevant and commercially acceptable.

There can be no assurance that our existing or future designs, collections or product concepts will continue to receive customer acceptance or generate expected sales. Any delay or inability in identifying market trends, changes in customer preferences, or any ineffective design selection may result in slower inventory movement, higher inventory holding period, reduced margins or lower sales.

Further, our designs may be influenced by traditional, cultural and contemporary themes, and any incorrect interpretation or lack of customer acceptance of such themes may affect the appeal of our products. In addition, similar designs or concepts may be introduced by competitors, which could reduce the distinctiveness of our offerings and affect our competitive position.

Although we have not experienced any material adverse impact on account of lack of acceptance of our designs in the past, there can be no assurance that such risks will not arise in the future. Any of the above factors may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

18. We do not register our jewellery designs under the Designs Act, 2000 and we may lose income if our designs are duplicated by competitors.

Our business is design-led and depends on our ability to conceptualise, curate and offer distinctive designer diamond jewellery to our customers. We develop and select jewellery designs based on customer preferences, market trends, retail requirements, occasions and our overall brand positioning.

The jewellery industry is highly competitive and design preferences are subject to frequent changes. Given the evolving nature of jewellery trends and the relatively short commercial life cycle of certain designs, we do not register our jewellery designs under the Designs Act, 2000. Accordingly, our designs may not be protected under the said Act.

In the event our designs, concepts or collections are copied, imitated or replicated by competitors, the distinctiveness and exclusivity of our offerings may be affected. This may result in loss of potential sales, pressure on margins, reduced customer appeal, reputational impact and loss of competitive advantage.

Although we have not experienced any material adverse impact on account of duplication of our designs in the past, there can be no assurance that such risks will not arise in the future. Any such occurrence may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

19. We are dependent on our promoters and senior management and other key personnel, and the loss of, or our inability to attract or retain, such persons could affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Our business and future growth are significantly dependent on the experience and continued services of our Promoters, Mr. Samarth Jaiswal and Mrs. Ishani Mehta Jaiswal, along with other key personnel. Their expertise, leadership, and relationships with suppliers, customers, regulators, and other stakeholders are critical to our operations. The loss of services of any such individuals could impair our ability to manage and expand our business effectively.

Our success also depends on our ability to attract and retain skilled professionals in a competitive industry. Inability to recruit or retain employees may adversely affect our operations and growth prospects. While we endeavour to build a strong talent pool and maintain robust processes, there can be no assurance that such measures will offset the adverse impact of attrition. Any loss of key personnel may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

For further details on the experience of our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel, please refer to the chapters titled "Our Management – Brief Profiles of Our Directors" and "Our Management – Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management" beginning on page 182 respectively of this Red Herring Prospectus.

20. We operate in a competitive environment with the presence of organised and unorganised players, which may adversely affect pricing, demand, and our business performance.

The market for our products is competitive and includes the presence of both organised and unorganised participants. Competition in the industry is influenced by factors such as product quality, pricing, distribution reach, availability, and delivery timelines. Certain competitors may have longer operating histories, larger scale of operations, or greater financial, technical, or operational resources, which may enable them to respond more effectively to market conditions.

In addition, participants in the unorganised segment may offer products at comparatively lower prices, which may exert pressure on pricing and margins and affect our ability to compete effectively in certain markets. Increased competitive intensity may impact sales volumes, pricing realisation, and profitability.

Further, the industry has witnessed consolidation among market participants. Any consolidation among competitors or their customers or suppliers could strengthen their market position and may adversely affect our competitive standing. If we are unable to compete effectively or adapt to changing competitive dynamics, our business operations, financial condition, and results of operations may be adversely affected.

21. We have not undertaken provident fund compliances since our incorporation, and any applicability of the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 in the future may subject us to additional statutory obligations and associated risks.

The Company was allotted Employees' Provident Fund registration bearing code no. HRKNL2215313000 under the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 ("EPF Act") by the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation ("EPFO") at the time of incorporation of the Company as Omara Ventures India Private Limited. The Company has represented to the EPFO authorities that, since its incorporation, the employee strength of the Company has not exceeded the statutory threshold prescribed for mandatory provident fund compliance and, accordingly, the Company has not undertaken provident fund compliances under the EPF Act till date.

Subsequently, pursuant to the conversion of the Company from a private limited company into a public limited company, the name of the Company was changed to Omara Ventures India Limited and its registered office was shifted from Panchkula, Haryana to Chandigarh. The Company has requested the EPFO authorities, through email, for updation of its name in the relevant records and transfer of its jurisdictional records from the Regional Office, Karnal to the Regional Office, Chandigarh. The aforesaid requests are subject to processing and confirmation by the relevant EPFO authorities, and there can be no assurance regarding the time required for completion of such updation or transfer.

While the Company has represented to the EPFO authorities that the statutory threshold for mandatory provident fund coverage has not been exceeded since incorporation, there can be no assurance that the applicability of the EPF Act, or the interpretation thereof by the relevant authorities, will not change or that the Company will not become subject to provident fund obligations in the future. In the event the provisions of the EPF Act become applicable to the Company, we may be required to undertake registration, contribution, maintenance of records, filings and other statutory compliances within the prescribed timelines. Any delay or failure in undertaking such compliances, or any determination by the relevant authorities that the provisions of the EPF Act were applicable to the Company for any earlier period, may expose us to additional financial liabilities, interest, damages, penalties or other consequences as may be prescribed under applicable law. Further, any such liabilities or regulatory action may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

The Company has undertaken that, upon the applicability of the EPF Act to it, it shall undertake such registrations, contributions and other compliances as may be required under applicable law. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to complete all such compliances within the prescribed timelines or without incurring additional costs or liabilities. Accordingly, any adverse determination or regulatory action in relation to our provident fund obligations could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

22. Certain entities forming part of our Promoter Group are engaged or have been engaged in business activities similar to those of our Company, which may result in potential conflicts of interest.-22

Certain entities forming part of our Promoter Group are engaged or have been engaged in business activities that are similar or related to the business activities undertaken by our Company. Our Promoter Group comprises Aycee Sales Private Limited, Celestial Jewels Private Limited, Grace Aviation Private Limited and Alfa Strategies Private Limited. While certain of these entities have business objects and/or past business activities that are similar to or overlap with those of our Company, none of the aforesaid Promoter Group entities are currently active and none have generated any revenue from operations during the last three financial years, including Celestial Jewels Private Limited. Accordingly, as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there is no active business operation or revenue-generating activity undertaken by the aforesaid Promoter Group entities that directly competes with or is similar to the current operations of our Company.

However, there can be no assurance that any of these Promoter Group entities will not commence or resume business activities similar to or competing with those of our Company in the future. If any such entity commences or resumes operations in a business similar to ours, it may compete with us for customers, suppliers, business opportunities, human resources or other resources and may result in potential conflicts of interest. Further, our Promoters may be subject to competing interests or may be required to allocate their time, resources and attention among the Company and such entities. Any such competition or conflict of interest may adversely affect our business opportunities, growth prospects, customer relationships and financial performance. There can be no assurance that potential conflicts of interest, if any, will always be resolved in our favour or that our Company will not be adversely affected by the business activities of entities forming part of our Promoter Group. Any such development could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

23. Our Managing Director and Non-Executive Director do not have prior experience of serving as directors of any listed company in India.

Our Managing Director and Non-Executive Director have not previously served as directors on the board of any listed company in India. While they possess relevant business, operational and professional experience, the requirements applicable to a listed company involve enhanced standards of corporate governance, regulatory compliance, disclosure obligations, stakeholder communication and board-level oversight.

Their lack of prior listed company board experience may pose challenges in adapting to such requirements in a timely and effective manner. Although our Company intends to comply with applicable laws and strengthen its governance framework, there can be no assurance that the transition to a listed company environment will not involve operational, governance or compliance-related challenges.

Any inability to effectively implement listed company governance practices may adversely affect our compliance framework, investor confidence, reputation and business operations. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Management" on page 182 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

24. We could be harmed by employee misconduct or errors that are difficult to detect and any such incidences could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

Employee misconduct or errors could expose us to business risks or losses, including regulatory sanctions and serious harm to our reputation. There can be no assurance that we will be able to detect or deter such misconduct. Moreover, the precautions we take to prevent and detect such activity may not be affective in all cases. Our employees may also commit errors that could subject us to claims and proceedings for alleged negligence, as well as regulatory actions on account of which our business, financial condition, results of operations and goodwill could be adversely affected.

"Although we have not experienced Employee misconduct or errors including any material disputes, strikes, lockouts or work stoppages in the past, there can be no assurance that such events will not arise in the future."

25. We may be subject to unionization, strikes, work stoppage or increased employee costs, which could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business operations depend on the availability of our permanent employees across key functions, including retail sales, customer service, inventory management, design coordination, administration and other support activities. Our ability to operate efficiently and maintain customer service standards depends on retaining suitable personnel and maintaining harmonious relations with our employees and other personnel engaged by us.

Although we have not experienced any material disputes, strikes, lockouts or work stoppages in the past, there can be no assurance that such events will not arise in the future. Any workforce-related disruption, including employee attrition, absenteeism, disputes, work stoppages or inability to retain trained personnel, may affect our retail operations, customer experience, productivity and overall business performance.

Further, any changes in applicable labour laws, employee benefit requirements, wage levels or compliance obligations may increase our employee-related costs. Any prolonged disruption in workforce availability or increase in employee-related expenses may adversely affect our business operations, financial condition and results of operations.

For further details regarding our workforce, please refer to the section titled "Business Overview – Human Resources" in this Red Herring Prospectus.

26. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against certain operating hazards and this may have a material adverse effect on our business.

Our Company has obtained insurance coverage for certain risks associated with its operations. However, our insurance policies do not cover all potential risks that may arise in the course of our business. Certain risks associated with our operations may not be fully covered under our existing insurance policies, and such coverage may be subject to limitations, exclusions, or conditions.

There can be no assurance that the insurance coverage maintained by our Company will be adequate to cover all losses or liabilities that may be incurred, or that such insurance will continue to be available on commercially reasonable terms in the future. Further, insurance claims may be subject to deductibles, exclusions, limitations, or denial by insurers, and any insured loss may exceed the coverage available under the relevant policy.

If our Company suffers any significant uninsured loss, or if an insurance claim is not accepted or is insufficient to cover the loss incurred, our business operations, financial condition, and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

27. Our indebtedness, including various conditions and restrictive covenants imposed on us under our financing agreements and could adversely affect our ability to grow our business or react to changes in our business environment.

As of March 31, 2026, we had total outstanding financial indebtedness of ₹ 2,242.86 Lakhs, comprising both long-term and short-term borrowings. Our financing agreements contain certain conditions and restrictive covenants, which vary depending on the requirements of the lenders and the terms negotiated in each facility. These covenants may restrict or delay certain actions or initiatives that we may propose to undertake, including incurring additional indebtedness, making investments, creating security over assets, or undertaking corporate restructuring. Failure to comply with such covenants or to obtain necessary consents could adversely impact our business operations and financial flexibility.

While we have received all relevant consents required for the purposes of this Issue and have complied with applicable covenants, there can be no assurance that we will continue to remain compliant in the future. Although we have not defaulted on any covenants during the past three financial years, any failure to comply with the terms of our financing agreements could result in the lenders declaring an event of default, accelerating repayment obligations, or enforcing security. Further, a default under one agreement may also trigger cross-default provisions in other agreements, which could, individually or in the aggregate, materially and adversely affect our financial condition and operations.

In addition, a portion of our borrowings are subject to variable interest rates, which are linked to benchmark rates such as MCLR or other base rates determined by the RBI, along with a contractually agreed spread. Any increase in interest rates, adverse changes in our credit rating, or tightening of monetary policy by the Government of India could increase our cost of borrowing. Rising interest costs or restrictions on our ability to raise additional capital may materially and adversely impact our business, results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

For further details regarding our borrowings, please refer to the chapter titled "Statement of Financial Indebtedness" on 209 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

28. We require certain approvals and licenses in the ordinary course of business and are required to comply with certain rules and regulations to operate our business, and the failure to obtain, retain, and renew such approvals and licenses in timely manner or comply with such rules and regulations or at all may affect our operations.

We require several statutory and regulatory permits, licenses, and approvals to operate our business. We need to ensure compliance and complete necessary applications at appropriate stages of our business to continue our operations. There is no assurance that the relevant authorities will issue or renew these approvals or licenses in a timely manner, or at all. Any failure by our Company to comply with these requirements may result in the cancellation of such licenses, approvals, or registrations, which could adversely affect our operations and financial strength.

Further, many of our approvals are granted for fixed periods of time and need renewal from time to time. Although there have been no past instances of such adverse regulatory action on our Company in this regard, non-renewal of the said permits and licenses would adversely affect our Company's operations, thereby having a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details, please see chapters titled "Key Industry and Regulations" and "Government and Other Approvals" at the beginning of page 161 and 239 respectively of the Red Herring Prospectus.

29. Our Promoters and the Promoter Group will jointly continue to retain majority shareholding in our Company after the Issue, which will allow them to determine the outcome of the matters requiring the approval of shareholders.

Post this Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group will collectively own majority of our equity share capital. As a result, our Promoter, together with the members of the Promoter Group, will continue to exercise a significant degree of influence over Company and will be able to control the outcome of any proposal that can be approved by a majority shareholder vote, including, the election of members to our Board, in accordance with the Companies Act, 2013 and our Articles of Association. Such a concentration of ownership may also have the effect of delaying, preventing or deterring a change in control of our Company.

Additionally, our Promoters will continue to have the ability to cause us to take actions that are not in, or may conflict with, our interests or the interests of some or all of our creditors or other shareholders, and we cannot assure you that such actions will not have an adverse effect on our future financial performance or the price of our Equity Shares.

For further details on the shareholding of our promoter and promoter group, please refer to the chapters titled "Capital Structure – Following is the details of the aggregate shareholding of Our Promoter and Promoter Group before and after the Issue is set forth below" beginning on page 69 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

30. Some of our Directors (including our Promoters) and Key Management Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their shareholding and dividend entitlement in our Company, in addition to normal remuneration, other benefits and reimbursement of expenses.

Some of our Directors (including our Promoters), Key Managerial Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their respective shareholding and dividend entitlements, in addition to the remuneration, benefits, and reimbursement of expenses payable to them in accordance with applicable laws. As a result, they may exercise significant influence over matters requiring shareholder or Board approval, including decisions relating to the composition of our Board of Directors and matters requiring simple or special majority voting. Such interests may give rise to potential conflicts with those of our other shareholders, and there can be no assurance that such conflicts, if they arise, will be resolved in a manner favourable to our Company. Any such circumstances could adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

For further details, please refer to the chapters titled "Our Management" beginning on page 182 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

31. The schedule of our estimated deployment of Net Proceeds is subject to inherent uncertainties.

The fund requirement and deployment are based on internal management estimates and our Company's current business plan and are subject to change in light of changes in external circumstances or costs, other financial conditions, business, or strategy. These estimates have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. In view of the dynamic nature of the sector and specifically that of our business, we may have to revise our expenditure and fund requirements as a result of variations in cost estimates, exchange rate fluctuations, and external factors that may not be within the control of our management. This may entail rescheduling and revising the planned expenditures and fund requirements and increasing or decreasing expenditures for a particular purpose at the discretion of our management, within the objects.

For further details, refer to "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 88 in this Red Herring Prospectus.

32. The objects of the Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution and we cannot assure you that the objects of the Issue will be achieved within the expected time frame, or at all, and any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds would be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior shareholders' approval.

We intend to utilise the Net Proceeds of the Issue for the purposes set out in the section titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 88 of this Red Herring Prospectus, which include (a) Funding capital expenditure requirements towards Renovation and Expansion of the Jewellery Boutique (b) Marketing and promotional expenses aimed at enhancing local brand awareness and visibility of our flagship brand, "OMARA" (c) Funding towards repayment or prepayment, in full or in part, of borrowings availed by our Company from bank and financial institutions, (d) Funding the long-term working capital requirements of our Company and (e) general corporate purpose. Our funding requirements and the proposed deployment of the Net Proceeds are based on management estimates, prevailing conditions, and internal assessments of our business requirements.

These estimates have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution and may be subject to change depending on external factors, market dynamics, costs, and strategic considerations.

Consequently, our actual requirements may differ from those envisaged, which may require us to reschedule or reallocate the deployment of funds. In case of an increase in project costs or a shortfall in funds, we may be required to meet such requirements through internal accruals, additional debt or equity financing, the availability and terms of which cannot be assured. Any such variations may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

Further, pursuant to Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, any variation in the Objects of the Issue requires the approval of shareholders by way of a special resolution, and dissenting shareholders will be provided an exit opportunity by our Promoters or controlling shareholders in accordance with applicable law. Accordingly, investors in the Equity Shares will be relying on the judgment of our management regarding the deployment of the Net Proceeds, and there can be no assurance that such deployment will be beneficial to our Company.

33. We have not declared any dividends till Financial Year 2025-26 and we cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends on our Equity Shares in the future.

We have not declared dividends on our Equity Shares for the period since incorporation till Financial Year 2025-26. Our future ability to pay dividends will depend on various factors, including our earnings, financial health, cash flows, and working capital needs. We cannot guarantee that we will generate sufficient income to cover operating expenses and distribute dividends to shareholders. Our dividend policy will also be influenced by our expansion plans and future capital requirements. There is a possibility that we may retain all future earnings for business growth, resulting in no dividends being declared in the near or medium term. Any future decision to declare and pay dividends will be at the discretion of our Board, taking into consideration our financial condition, business prospects, cash needs, and other factors. As a result, realisation of gains on shareholder's investments may largely depend on the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares, though there is no assurance that our shares will appreciate in value. For more information on our dividend history, please refer to the section titled "Dividend Policy" on page 204 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

34. Any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds would be subject to certain compliance requirements, including prior shareholders' approval.

Our Company intends to use Net Proceeds raised pursuant to the Fresh Issue in the manner set out in the section titled "Objects of the Issue" on page 88 of this Red Herring Prospectus. In accordance with Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilisation of the Net Proceeds as disclosed in this Red Herring Prospectus without obtaining the approval of shareholders of our Company through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilisation of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the approval of the shareholders of our Company in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such approval of the shareholders of our Company may adversely affect our business or operations. Further, pursuant to Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, any variation in the Objects of the Issue requires the approval of shareholders by way of a special resolution, and dissenting shareholders will be provided an exit opportunity by our Promoters or controlling shareholders in accordance with applicable law.

In light of these factors, we may not be able to undertake variation of Objects of the Issue to use any unutilized proceeds of the Issue, if any, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. This may restrict our Company's ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition by re-deploying the unutilized portion of Net Proceeds, if any, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

35. A Portion of the Net Proceeds is Proposed to be Utilized for General Corporate Purposes, the Exact Deployment of Which is at the Discretion of Our Management.

A portion of the Net Proceeds of the Issue, constituting [●] % of the total Issue Proceeds, is proposed to be utilized for general corporate purposes, as permitted under applicable laws. The deployment of funds under this head is not subject to any specific appraisal and will be at the discretion of our management, in accordance with the policies of our Board and applicable law. We cannot assure you that the proceeds earmarked for general corporate purposes will be applied in a manner that results in an increase in the value of your investment or improves our financial condition. Any ineffective utilisation of such funds may adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

36. We cannot assure you that our equity shares will be listed on the SME platform of BSE in a timely manner or at all, which may restrict your ability to dispose of the equity shares.

Though we shall make best of our efforts to comply with all applicable regulatory, financial and operational requirements for getting the equity shares proposed to be offered through this Red Herring Prospectus listed on SME platform of BSE in a time bound manner, yet on account of any change in applicable laws, economic conditions and/or any other reason/s beyond our control, the said shares may not get listed on the SME platform of BSE Limited in a timely manner or at all, which may restrict your ability to dispose of the equity shares. However, even in such circumstances, the company shall stay fully committed to pay such interest and/or refund the full application amount, as may be required in accordance with the applicable regulatory directives.

37. The requirements of being a public listed company may strain our resources and impose additional obligations.

As a publicly listed company, we will face increased scrutiny from shareholders, regulators, and the public, leading to higher legal, accounting, and corporate governance expenses. Compliance with listing requirements, including filing unaudited financial results on a half-yearly basis, will demand significant resources and oversight from management. This additional burden may divert management's focus from other business activities, potentially affecting our overall performance. There is no assurance that we will consistently meet our reporting obligations or promptly determine and report changes to our operations like other listed companies. Furthermore, we may need to expand our management team and hire additional staff with public company experience, which may not be feasible within the required timeframe. Failure to do so could negatively affect our profits and reputation.

38. There are restrictions on daily, weekly and monthly price movement of the equity shares, which may adversely affect the shareholder's ability to sell their shares at desired price at a particular point in time.

Once our Equity Shares are listed, we would be subject to circuit breakers imposed by the stock exchange, which restrict transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the broader index- based market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI. The stock exchange sets the percentage limits on these circuit breakers based on the historical volatility of our Equity Shares' price and trading volume. However, the stock exchange does not disclose the current percentage limit of the circuit breaker and may change it without notice. Consequently, these limits can restrict both upward and downward price movements. As a result, we cannot guarantee your ability to sell your Equity Shares or the price you may obtain for them at any given time.

39. Pursuant to listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures like Additional Surveillance Measure (ASM) and Graded Surveillance Measures (GSM) by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance market integrity and safeguard the interest of investors.

On listing, we may be subject to general market conditions which may include significant price and volume fluctuations. The price of our Equity Shares may also fluctuate after the Issue due to several factors such as volatility in the Indian and global securities market, our profitability and performance, performance of our competitors, changes in the estimates of our performance or any other political or economic factor. The occurrence of any of the abovementioned factors may lead to us triggering the parameters listed by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges for placing securities under the GSM or ASM framework such as net worth and net fixed assets of securities, high low variation in securities, client concentration and close to close price variation. In the event our Equity Shares are covered under such surveillance measures implemented by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, we may be subject to certain additional restrictions in relation to trading of our Equity Shares such as limiting trading frequency (for example, trading either allowed once in a week or a month) or freezing of price on upper side of trading which may have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares or may in general cause disruptions in the development of an active trading market for our Equity Shares.

40. After this Issue, the market price of our Equity Shares may fluctuate, decline below the Issue Price or an active trading market for our Equity Shares may not develop or be sustained.

The Issue Price of our Equity Shares has been determined in accordance with the applicable provisions and based on various factors as described in the chapter titled "Basis of Issue Price" on page 110 of this Red Herring Prospectus. However, the Issue Price may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after listing.

There can be no assurance that an active and liquid trading market for our Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue. Further, the market price of our Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations and may decline below the Issue Price. Accordingly, investors may not be able to sell their Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

The market price of our Equity Shares may be affected by several factors, including but not limited to:

- Variations in our financial performance, revenue, profitability and earnings per share;
- Performance of our competitors and developments in the jewellery retail industry;
- Changes in estimates of our performance or recommendations by analysts, if any;
- Media reports relating to our company, our brand, our promoters or the industry in which we operate;
- Investor perception of our business, growth prospects and valuation;
- Volatility in indian and global capital markets;
- Changes in economic, fiscal, legal, tax or regulatory policies in india;
- General market conditions and domestic or international economic developments; and
- Factors unrelated to our operating performance.

Current valuations may not be sustainable in the future and may also not be reflective of future valuations for our industry and our Company. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue or that the price at which the Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the price at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to this Issue.

41. There are restrictions on daily movements in the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell Equity Shares or the price at which Equity Shares can be sold at a particular point in time.

Our listed Equity Shares will be subject to a daily "circuit breaker" imposed on listed companies by the Stock Exchanges, which does not allow transactions beyond certain volatility in the trading price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on the Equity Shares' circuit breaker will be set by the Stock Exchanges based on historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The Stock Exchanges are not required to inform our Company of the percentage limit of the circuit breaker, and they may change the limit without our knowledge. This circuit breaker would effectively limit the upward and downward movements in the trading price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, there can be no assurance regarding the ability of shareholders to sell Equity Shares or the price at which shareholders may be able to sell their Equity Shares.

Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval would restrict your ability to dispose of the Equity Shares. Any financial turmoil, especially in the United States of America or Europe, may have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investors' reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets. Indian financial markets have also in the past experienced the contagion effect of the global financial turmoil, evident from the sharp decline in the benchmark index. Any prolonged financial crisis may have an adverse impact on the Indian economy and us, thereby resulting in a material and adverse effect on our business, operations, financial condition, profitability and price of our Equity Shares.

These problems could interrupt our Company's business operations, which could have an adverse effect on its results of operations and financial condition.

15. A slowdown in economic growth in India could cause our business to suffer.

We are incorporated in India, and all of our assets and employees are located in India. As a result, we are highly dependent on prevailing economic conditions in India and our results of operations are significantly affected by factors influencing the Indian economy. A slowdown in the Indian economy could adversely affect our business, including our ability to grow our assets, the quality of our assets, and our ability to implement our strategy.

Factors that may adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations, may include:

i. any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;
ii. any scarcity of credit or other financing in India;
iii. prevailing income conditions among Indian consumers and Indian corporations;
iv. changes in India's tax, trade, fiscal or monetary policies;

The working capital projections made by the Company are based on certain key assumptions, as set out below:

The justifications for the holding period mentioned in the table above are provided below:

Our business is working capital intensive due to the high-value nature of diamond jewellery and the need to maintain adequate inventory across designs, diamond sizes, product categories and price points. We require working capital primarily for procurement and replenishment of diamonds, solitaires, certified stones, precious and semi-precious gemstones, precious metals and other allied materials required for our retail jewellery operations.

We offer curated diamond jewellery collections under the "Omara" brand through our retail boutique, including bridal jewellery, occasion-based jewellery, festive jewellery and contemporary daily-wear jewellery. In the diamond jewellery business, customer preferences may vary based on design, carat, cut, clarity, colour, setting, finish, weight and price range. Accordingly, maintaining an appropriate inventory mix is important for offering sufficient product choice and meeting customer requirements in a timely manner.

Further, pursuant to the proposed renovation and expansion of our Jewellery Boutique, our Company may require additional working capital to support inventory depth, display stock, replenishment requirements, customised jewellery orders and product development requirements for the expanded retail setup.

Our Company also requires working capital for payments to suppliers, product development and supply arrangement partners, procurement of diamonds and precious metals, inventory holding, customisation requirements and other day-to-day business requirements.

As on March 31, 2026, our Company funds its working capital requirements in the ordinary course of business through internal accruals and financing from banks and financial institutions. For details of facilities availed by our Company, please refer to the chapter titled "Statement of Financial Indebtedness" beginning on page 209 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

The proposed utilisation of Net Proceeds towards long-term working capital requirements will enable our Company to strengthen its inventory position, support procurement planning, improve operational flexibility and reduce dependence on external working capital borrowings.

Sr. No.	Particulars	Assumptions
Current Assets
1	Inventories:	In the diamond jewellery retail business, inventory is a significant component of working capital, as customer purchase decisions are influenced by the immediate availability of curated jewellery products across designs, diamond sizes, settings, categories, weight ranges, price points and occasion-based collections. Our Company is required to maintain adequate inventory of finished diamond jewellery, solitaires, gemstones and precious metal jewellery to support customer selection at our boutique and to meet requirements for bridal, festive, special occasion and contemporary daily-wear jewellery. Our Company has historically maintained an inventory holding period in the range of 347 to 382 days for the Fiscals ended March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2026. This reflects the nature of our business, where a meaningful depth and variety of inventory is required to support retail sales and customer preferences. Considering the high intrinsic value of diamond jewellery and precious metals, even a moderate increase in product range, sales volume or display stock requires a corresponding increase in working capital investment. Our Company proposes to optimise its inventory management and maintain an estimated inventory holding period of approximately 320 days in Fiscal 2027. The utilisation of Net Proceeds towards inventory is intended to support adequate stock availability, timely replenishment, customised jewellery requirements and anticipated growth in operations, including in connection with the proposed renovation and expansion of the Jewellery Boutique.
2	Trade receivables	Our Company is primarily engaged in retail sale of jewellery under a B2C model, where sales are generally realised at or near the point of sale. Accordingly, our trade receivables are relatively low. Over the last three Fiscals, our receivable cycle has ranged between 1 and 23 days and has remained low in the recent periods. Going forward, our Company expects the receivable cycle to remain stable at approximately 1 day, which is in line with the nature of our retail business and our historical operating pattern. Our Company does not expect any material extension of credit to customers, except limited and incidental credit, if any, in the ordinary course of business.
3	Short term loans and advances	Short-term loans and advances primarily comprise balances with revenue authorities, prepaid revenue expenses and other receivables incidental to our business operations. These balances arise in the ordinary course of business and are generally within the normal operating cycle of our Company. Historically, the holding period under this head has remained in the range of 10 to 18 days during the Fiscals ended March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2026. For the purpose of working capital assessment, the holding period under this head has been considered based on the average of the last three audited Fiscals, considering the recurring and short-term nature of such advances and receivables. For the purpose of working capital assessment, the holding period under this head has been considered based on the average of the last three audited financial years, reflecting the recurring and short-term nature of such assets. Based on historical trends and the consistent pattern of realisation and adjustment, no material incremental working capital requirement has been projected in respect of Other Current Assets, including Short-term Loans and Advances.

Current Liabilities
4	Trade payables	Our trade payable cycle has historically ranged between 116 and 287 days, reflecting credit arrangements with suppliers and product development / supply arrangement partners in the jewellery trade. These arrangements are influenced by the nature of the materials procured, including diamonds, solitaires, gemstones and precious metals, which are high-value and price-sensitive. For Fiscal 2027, our Company has estimated a trade payable holding period of approximately 118 days. With the proposed infusion of Net Proceeds towards working capital, our Company intends to fund a larger portion of its procurement and inventory requirements through its own resources. This is expected to support timely procurement, improve operational flexibility and strengthen our position with suppliers and product development / supply arrangement partners.
5	Other current Liabilities and Short-term Provisions	Other current liabilities primarily comprise expenses payable, statutory dues such as GST, TDS and professional tax, employee-related liabilities and provisions for routine business obligations. These liabilities arise in the ordinary course of business and are generally settled within their respective payment cycles and statutory timelines. Historically, the holding period for these liabilities has remained low, ranging between 2 and 10 days during the Fiscals ended March 31, 2024, March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2026. For the purpose of working capital assessment, the holding period under this head has been considered based on the average of the last three audited Fiscals. Given the recurring nature and prompt settlement of these obligations, no material incremental working capital requirement is projected under this head. For the purpose of assessing working capital requirements, the holding period for Other Current Liabilities and Short-term Provisions has been considered based on the average holding period of the last three audited financial years of the Company. Given the recurring nature of these items and their prompt settlement cycle, our Company does not anticipate any significant variation in the holding period going forward. Accordingly, no major incremental working capital requirement is projected under this head.

As certified by M/s Mehan Associates*, Chartered Accountants, by way of their certificate dated June 25, 2026.*

5. General Corporate Purpose

Our Company proposes to deploy the balance Net Proceeds aggregating to ₹ [●] Lakhs towards general corporate purposes, subject to such amount not exceeding 15% of the Gross Proceeds or ₹1,000.00 lakhs whichever is lower, in compliance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. The general corporate purposes for which our Company proposes to utilise Net Proceeds include acquisition of fixed assets, funding of growth opportunities, funding strategic initiatives, partnership and joint ventures, brand building exercises and business, meeting any expense of our Company, including administration, insurance, marketing, repairs and maintenance, payment of taxes and duties, and expenses incurred in the ordinary course of business and towards any exigencies, as may be applicable. The quantum of utilisation of funds towards each of the above purposes will be determined by our Board, based on the amount available under this head and the business requirements of our Company, from time to time. Our management, in accordance with applicable laws, shall have the flexibility in utilizing surplus amounts, if any. In the event that we are unable to utilize the entire amount that we have currently estimated for use out of Net Proceeds in a Fiscal, we will utilize such unutilized amount in the next Fiscal.

Our Company will not utilize the amount earmarked for general corporate purposes towards any of the Objects.

In addition to the above, our Company may utilise the Net Proceeds towards other expenditure considered expedient and as approved periodically by our Board, subject to compliance with necessary provisions of the Companies Act and other applicable laws. In case of variations in the actual utilization of funds designated for the purposes set forth above, increased fund requirements for a particular purpose may be financed by surplus funds or through our internal accruals, if any, which are not applied to the other purposes set out above.

GLOBAL ECONIMIC OUTLOOK

The global economy is facing another major shock. The conflict in the Middle East has triggered sharp increases in energy prices, renewed inflationary pressures, and fueled expectations of tighter monetary policy. Global growth is projected to slow from 2.9 percent in 2025 to 2.5 percent in 2026—the lowest rate since the COVID-19 pandemic—amid weaker prospects for economies dependent on energy imports and those directly affected by hostilities. Activity is expected to firm in 2027–28 as energy supplies recover, monetary easing resumes, and trade strengthens. Risks to the outlook remain skewed to the downside. A renewed escalation of hostilities or more prolonged disruptions to commodity flows could further raise commodity prices, intensify inflationary pressures and food insecurity, trigger financial stress, and lower growth. If energy supply disruptions prove to be more severe than assumed and are accompanied by substantial financial stress, global growth could fall to just 1.3 percent in 2026. Persistent trade policy uncertainty, geopolitical strains, and weather-related shocks also pose material risks. On the upside, a broadening of artificial intelligence (AI)-related investment and its adoption could lift activity. Policy action is critical to address ongoing challenges. Enhanced global cooperation is needed to safeguard energy and food security, bolster the trading system, and advance the energy transition. Domestically, policy makers will need to balance controlling inflation with supporting activity, strengthen fiscal sustainability, and maintain financial stability. Slower growth prospects translate into reduced investment, constrained hiring, and tighter fiscal space, compounding the challenge of creating jobs in EMDEs with growing workforces in an era of potentially transformative change linked to AI. Meeting this challenge will require a concerted agenda centered on the conditions for job creation: investing in physical, human, and digital capital; fostering a business-friendly environment; and mobilizing private investment.

The global economic outlook has shifted markedly as the conflict in the Middle East has generated major disruptions in energy markets. Before the outbreak of the conflict, global activity seemed to be on a firm footing, supported by strong growth in some major economies and better-thanexpected global trade, amid robust growth in artificial intelligence (AI)-related technology exports and a slight decline in tariff levels. The conflict, however, has led to a marked deterioration in the global outlook, with about two-thirds of economies around the world facing weaker growth prospects (figure 1.1.A).

Disruptions to flows of energy and other commodity supplies from the Gulf region have led to sharp commodity price increases (figure 1.1.B). Overall, commodity prices are expected to rise by 22 percent in 2026, in contrast to the 7 percent decline expected in January. this reflects a baseline assumption that shipping through the Strait of Hormuz remains severely disrupted through July, with shipping volumes haltingly resuming thereafter, and approaching pre-conflict levels by the end of the year. These disruptions are projected to keep energy prices elevated, with the Brent crude oil price averaging $94/barrel (bbl) in 2026, an increase of 36 percent over 2025 and more than 50 percent above the January projection. European natural gas prices are anticipated to rise about 30 percent in 2026, on tightened liquefied natural gas (LNG) availability globally. The conflict has also severely disrupted global fertilizer trade, triggering sharp price increases that reflect the Gulf's large share of global fertilizer exports and the surge in natural gas prices, a key input for nitrogen fertilizers.

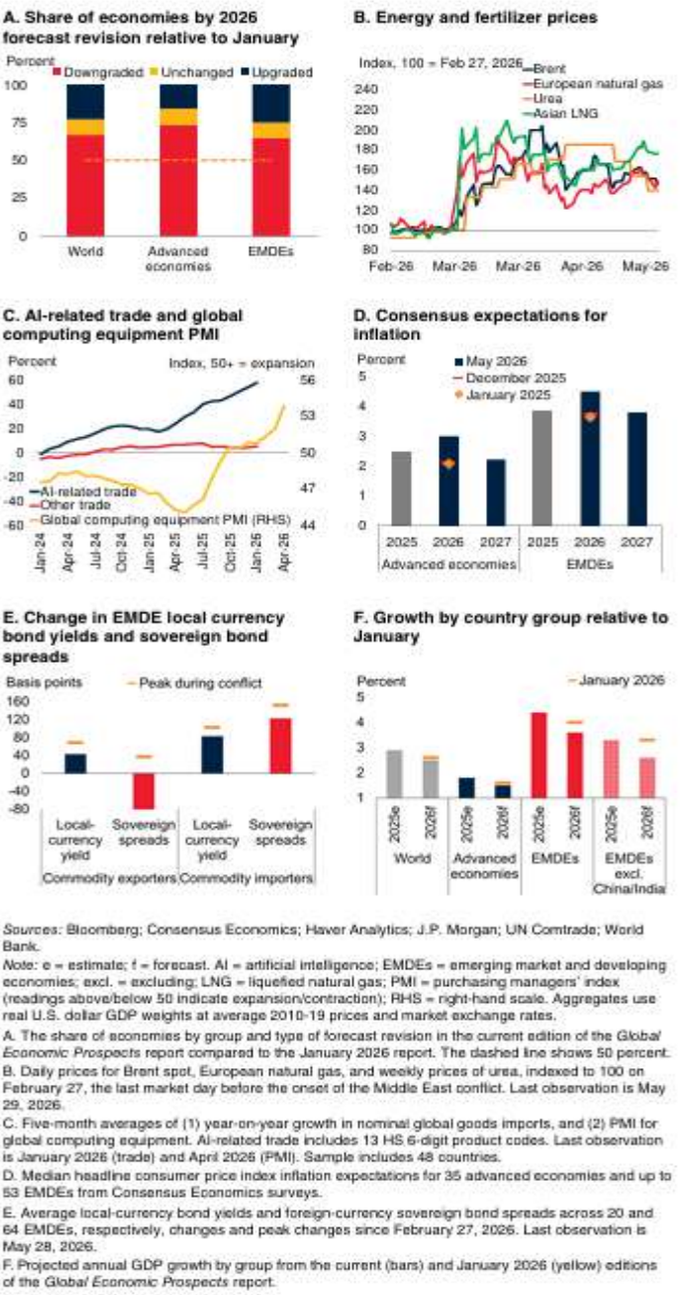

While conflict-related disruptions are weighing on commodity trade flows, an improved trade policy environment and buoyant AI-related investment provide countervailing support to global trade (figure 1.1.C). This is in part attributable to a slight decline in U.S. tariffs following a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that struck down tariffs imposed on international economic emergency grounds, alongside trade liberalization efforts by other countries.

The increase in commodity prices has led to a notable resurgence of inflationary pressures. Headline inflation has picked up in both advanced economies and emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs), though the impact was attenuated somewhat by the introduction of fuel subsidies and price caps in some economies. In addition, core inflation has firmed across many EMDEs and in some large economies. As a result, headline inflation expectations have risen broadly (figure 1.1.D).

The sharp escalation in geopolitical stress also resulted in elevated volatility across financial markets. Concerns about inflationary pressures have pushed up bond yields as well as breakeven rates of inflation in major advanced economies, and expectations of near-term monetary policy easing have dissipated. In addition, equity markets weakened in the initial weeks of the conflict but many have mostly recovered following the ceasefire, largely as a result of AI optimism. Across EMDEs, equity prices declined, bond yields increased, and currencies came under pressure amid capital outflows, with only a partial recovery for some commodity importers after hostilities eased (figure 1.1.E). In contrast, financial conditions in energy-exporting EMDEs outside the Middle East, and other EMDEs with improved policy frameworks and substantial buffers, have recovered more quickly.

Global growth is expected to slow in 2026, with growth downgraded relative to January in nearly two-thirds of economies. This mainly reflects sharp disruptions in key commodity markets caused by the conflict in the Middle East. The conflict's impact on global trade has partly been offset by robust AI-related investment. Consensus inflation expectations picked up notably following the surge in energy prices. Local-currency bond yields and external bond spreads remained higher in commodity importers, reflecting more adverse impacts of the conflict. Against this backdrop, global growth is forecast to decelerate to 2.5 percent in 2026, down from 2.9 percent in 2025, with notably weaker prospects in EMDEs.

F. Projected annual GDP growth by group from the current (bars) and January 2026 (yellow) editions of the Global Economic Prospects report.

In this context, global growth is forecast to slow this year to 2.5 percent, the lowest rate since the COVID-19 pandemic, as higher energy prices, rising inflation, tighter monetary conditions, and weaker trade weigh on activity. The expected deceleration is driven by slowing growth in advanced economies and EMDEs reliant on imported energy, as well as sharply weaker exports in economies in the Middle East directly exposed to the conflict (figure 1.1.F). Global growth is envisaged to pick up to 2.8 percent on average in 2027–28 as energy prices moderate, financial conditions ease, and trade recovers.

Growth in advanced economies is forecast to slow this year, to 1.5 percent, from 1.8 percent in 2025, mainly due to the impact of substantially higher energy prices. The United States—a large oil producer—is proving resilient to the disruptions in global energy markets, with the adverse impacts of the conflict expected to be offset by fiscal easing and continued AI-related investment.

GLOBAL TRADE

Following the U.S. Supreme Court ruling striking down the use of tariffs on international economic emergency grounds, the U.S. administration introduced a temporary 10 percent tariff surcharge under a different law, set to expire in late July. Together with sector- and country-specific measures, the U.S. effective tariff rate has declined slightly, to about 12 percent from about 14 percent earlier this year. While trade policy uncertainty remains elevated, several initiatives are expected to support trade growth and diversification. They include recent free trade agreements between the European Union and Mercosur, India, and Australia respectively, and between the United Kingdom and India. They also include unilateral market access initiatives such as China's zero-tariff treatment for African countries and the U.S. reauthorization of the African Growth and Opportunity Act.

Despite these supporting factors, growth in global goods and services trade is projected to decelerate from 4.8 percent in 2025 to 2.9 percent in 2026, reflecting a reversal of the earlier front-loading activity in anticipation of higher trade barriers; the delayed impact of tariffs; and the effects of the conflict in the Middle East, including disruptions related to the closure of the Strait of Hormuz. Partially offsetting these headwinds, goods trade is envisaged to be supported by continued robust demand for AI-related products (figure 1.3.A). Meanwhile, services trade growth is set to ease, in part reflecting rising travel and transport costs due to higher fuel prices. Compared with previous projections, however, trade growth in 2026 is 0.7 percentage point higher, reflecting continued resilience, strong AI-related activity, lower global tariffs, and recent trade agreements. Global trade growth is then projected to firm to an average of 3.2 percent in 2027–28, broadly in line with global output, as the adverse effects of tariffs and policy uncertainty ease (figure 1.3.B). Tariff rates in effect as of mid-May 2026 are assumed to prevail throughout the forecast period.

Although global trade is set to slow in 2026—reflecting a reversal of front-loading activity, lagged effects of tariffs, and disruptions related to the conflict in the Middle East—goods trade is still expected to be supported by continued strong demand for AI-related products. Despite this slowdown, trade growth is projected to be stronger than previously anticipated, reflecting continued resilience.

Note: e = estimate; f = forecast. AI = artificial intelligence; PMI = purchasing managers' index; RHS = right-hand scale; WTO = World Trade Organization.

A. Five-month averages of (1) year-on-year growth in nominal global goods imports, and (2) PMI for global computing equipment. AI-related trade includes 13 HS 6-digit product codes. Last observation is January 2026 (trade) and April 2026 (PMI). Sample includes 48 countries.

B. Trade is measured as the average of export and import volumes. "June 2026" and "January 2026" refer to the forecasts in the associated editions of the Global Economic Prospects report.

The trade outlook remains subject to substantial downside risks. A re-escalation of the conflict in the Middle East and increased geopolitical ten sions could further disrupt goods trade logistics, including maritime and air transport. Uncertainty about the safety of key shipping routes, together with higher fuel prices, could raise shipping costs and weigh on goods trade (Brancaccio, Kalouptsidi, and Papageorgiou 2023; von Below and Vézina 2016). In addition, prolonged geopo litical stress could lead to sharp declines in services trade, particularly tourism (Mulabdic and Yotov 2025). A renewed escalation of trade tensions, potentially extending to third countries and involving secondary sanctions—measures target ing firms or countries trading with sanctioned entities—as well as uncertainty around previously concluded trade agreements, could further dampen trade growth prospects.

Collectively, these trends highlight India's position as one of the fastest-growing major economies, supported by broad-based expansion across sectors.

MARKET OVERVIEW

India is home to 126 unicorns, with six new startups achieving unicorn status in 2025.

India's current account deficit widened in Q3 FY 2025–26 (October–December), primarily due to a higher merchandise trade deficit.

The deficit stood at Rs. 1.18 lakh crore (US$ 13.2 billion), compared with Rs. 0.95 lakh crore (US$ 11.3 billion) in the same quarter last year.

The merchandise trade deficit increased to Rs. 8.34 lakh crore (US$ 93.6 billion) from Rs. 6.70 lakh crore (US$ 79.3 billion) in Q3 FY25, while the services surplus improved to Rs. 5.12 lakh crore (US$ 57.5 billion) from Rs. 4.32 lakh crore (US$ 51.2 billion) during the same period.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

India is primarily a domestic demand-driven economy, with consumption and investments contributing to 70% of the economic activity. With India's economy showing resilient growth, supported by strong domestic demand, policy reforms, and a healthy investment pipeline, several new projects and developments are underway across key sectors. According to World Bank, India must continue to prioritise lowering inequality while also putting growth-oriented policies into place to boost the economy. In view of this, there have been some developments that have taken place in the recent past. Some of them are mentioned below.

- On the FDI front, according to the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), India's cumulative FDI inflow stood at US$ 1.14 trillion between April 2000-December 2025; with major share of FDI equity inflow, coming from Singapore at Rs. 13,72,320 crore (US$ 192.53 billion) with a total share of 25%, followed by Mauritius at Rs. 11,34,884 crore (US$ 185.02 billion) with 24%, the USA at Rs. 5,60,990 crore (US$ 78.45 billion) with 10%, the Netherlands at Rs. 3,82,995 crore (US$ 55.60 billion) with 7%, and Japan at Rs. 3,11,507 crore (US$ 47.59 billion) with 6%.

- In Q1 CY2026 (January–March), India recorded 316 Private Equity (PE)–Venture Capital (VC) deals valued at Rs. 82,660 crore (US$ 9.1 billion), reflecting continued investor participation despite global geopolitical uncertainties and temporary supply chain disruptions linked to the ongoing West Asia conflict. In Q1 CY2025, PE-VC investments stood at Rs. 1,01,320 crore (US$ 11.7 billion), highlighting the strong base of investment activity in the previous year. In March 2026 alone, investments were valued at Rs. 35,310 crore (US$ 3.8 billion), compared with Rs. 40,660 crore (US$ 4.7 billion) in March 2025.

- During FY 2025–26, Foreign Portfolio Investor (FPI) activity in India reflected portfolio rebalancing and selective capital allocation across asset classes amid evolving global market conditions. While investors adopted a calibrated approach towards equity markets, debt instruments continued to attract strong inflows of Rs. 25,807 crore (US$ 2.92 billion), supported by stable macroeconomic fundamentals, policy continuity and India's improving bond market attractiveness. FPIs also channelled Rs. 2,699 crore (US$ 0.31 billion) into mutual fund schemes, indicating sustained preference for diversified and professionally managed market exposure. Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs) also recorded inflows, while cumulative FPI investments in India stood at Rs. 14,84,403 crore (US$ 168.00 billion) by the end of FY 2025–26, underlining long-term foreign investor confidence in India's growth story. Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) continued to play a stabilising role in the equity cash market during FY 2025–26 (April–December 2025), recording net purchases of around Rs. 5.99 lakh crore (US$ 66.55 billion), with strong participation from mutual funds, insurance companies and pension funds supporting market resilience.

- India's manufacturing sector remained in expansionary territory in March 2026, with the seasonally adjusted HSBC India Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) at 53.9, following a strong 56.9 in February 2026. The index continued to stay above the neutral 50-mark, reflecting sustained growth in overall business conditions and healthy momentum across the manufacturing sector. New orders and output continued to rise, supported by steady domestic demand and inventory building, while firms also increased employment and input purchases to strengthen contingency stocks.

- India's consumer price inflation remained well-anchored in March 2026, reflecting a stable price environment across the economy. Headline inflation, based on the All-India Consumer Price Index (CPI), stood at 3.40% year-on-year, compared with 3.21% in February 2026, indicating manageable price pressures across both rural and urban regions. Rural inflation was recorded at 3.63%, while urban inflation stood at 3.11% during the month.

- India's GST collections continued to demonstrate strong revenue resilience, supported by steady economic activity and improved compliance levels. Total Net GST revenue in March 2026 stood at Rs. 1.78 lakh crore (US$ 20.14 billion), registering a year-on-year growth of 8.2% compared with Rs. 1.64 lakh crore (US$ 18.49 billion) in March 2025. On a cumulative basis, yearly net GST collections reached Rs. 19.35 lakh crore (US$ 219.03 billion) in FY 2025–26, reflecting a year-on-year growth of 7.1% over Rs. 18.07 lakh crore (US$ 204.46 billion) in FY 2024–25.

- India's aviation sector continued to witness steady growth in passenger traffic during FY 2025–26 (April–March). Total passengers handled stood at 420.09 million, compared with 412.09 million in FY 2024–25, registering a growth of 1.9%.

- The government is focusing on renewable energy sources and has achieved a major clean energy milestone by generating 50% of its power from renewable sources, five years ahead of its 2030 target. India is committed to achieving its Net Zero Emissions ambition by 2070 through a five-pronged strategy, 'Panchamrit'. Moreover, India ranked 3rd in the renewable energy country attractiveness index.

- India secured 38th position out of 139 economies in the Global Innovation Index 2025. India rose from 81st position in 2015 to 38th position in 2024. India ranks in 3rd position in the global number of scientific publications.

- India's industrial activity continued to witness steady expansion in March 2026, with the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) growing by 4.1% year-on-year, supported by sustained momentum across key sectors. The manufacturing sector recorded a 4.3% increase, while mining expanded by 5.5%, reflecting strength in core industrial segments. Electricity generation also remained positive at 0.8%, contributing to overall industrial performance. The IIP index rose to 173.2 in March 2026, up from 166.3 in March 2025, indicating continued expansion in India's industrial base. - The government has set a calibrated wheat procurement target of 343.35 lakh metric tonnes (LMT) for the 2026–27 rabi marketing season, ensuring efficient stock management and smooth market operations. As per the latest data, total wheat procurement has reached 31.87 lakh metric tonnes (LMT) as of end-April 2026, reflecting the ongoing progress of procurement across key producing states.

GOVERNMENT INITIATIVES

Over the years, the Indian government has introduced many initiatives to strengthen the nation's economy. The Indian government has been effective in developing policies and programmes that are not only beneficial for citizens to improve their financial stability but also for the overall growth of the economy. Over recent decades, India's rapid economic growth has led to a substantial increase in its demand for exports. Besides this, a number of the government's flagship programmes, including Make in India, Start-up India, Digital India, the Smart City Mission, and the Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation, are aimed at creating immense opportunities in India. In this regard, some of the initiatives taken by the government to improve the economic condition of the country are mentioned below:

- On March 17, 2026, the Union Cabinet approved the 'Mission for Aatmanirbharta in Pulses' with an outlay of Rs. 11,440 crores (US$ ~1.27 billion) to achieve self-sufficiency in pulses by 2030–31.

- On February 28, 2026, Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurated Micron Technology's Semiconductor Assembly, Test and Packaging (ATMP) facility in Sanand, Gujarat, marking the commencement of commercial production.

- On January 2, 2026, the Government launched two key interventions under the Export Promotion Mission to strengthen MSME exports, including a 2.75% interest subvention on pre- and post-shipment credit and collateral guarantee support of up to 85% through CGTMSE.

- Under the Startup India initiative, the Government continues to strengthen the start-up ecosystem through targeted funding, seed support, and credit guarantees. As of October 2025, women-led start-ups received investments and financial support of over Rs. 3,157 crore (US$ 0.38 billion) through the Fund of Funds for Startups, Startup India Seed Fund Scheme, and Credit Guarantee Scheme, reinforcing inclusive entrepreneurship and early-stage innovation across sectors.

- The Ministry of Labour & Employment signed an MoU with Zomato on October 14, 2025, to enhance employment opportunities through the National Career Service (NCS) portal. Under the agreement, Zomato will list around 2.5 lakh job opportunities annually, supporting the growth of the gig economy and promoting formal, technology-enabled livelihoods across India.

- The Production Linked Incentive (PLI) programme has continued to strengthen India's manufacturing base and enhance domestic value addition across priority sectors. As of December 2025, realised investments under PLI schemes reached Rs. 2,16,000 crore (US$ 24.44 billion), leading to incremental production and sales of Rs. 20,41,000 crore (US$ 230.93 billion) and generating over 14.39 lakh jobs (direct and indirect).

- In August 2025, Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi launched two major agriculture schemes worth Rs. 35,440 crore (US$ 4 billion), the PM Dhan-Dhaanya Krishi Yojana and the Mission for Aatmanirbharta in Pulses, aimed at boosting self-reliance, productivity, and farmers' income. He also inaugurated and laid foundation stones for projects worth over Rs. 6,200 crore (US$ 709 million) across agriculture, animal husbandry, fisheries, and food processing sectors.

- On July 5, 2025, the Union Cabinet approved the Rs. 1,00,000 crore (US$ 11.72 billion) Research, Development and Innovation (RDI) Scheme, launching long term, low or zero interest funding via a special purpose fund under the ANRF to jump start India's R&D ecosystem and support deep tech and startup innovation.

- In March 2025, the Government announced several measures to boost industrial growth and investments, including initiatives such as Make in India, Start-up India, PM GatiShakti, and Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Schemes. The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs also approved 12 new projects worth Rs. 28,602 crore (US$ 325.02 million) under the National Industrial Corridor Development Programme (NICDP), spanning 10 states, to strengthen India's manufacturing base and attract investments.

ROAD AHEAD

India's economic outlook remains robust, supported by strong macroeconomic fundamentals, resilient domestic demand and sustained investment momentum. The economy continues to rank among the fastest-growing major economies globally, driven by broad-based expansion across manufacturing, services and infrastructure, alongside steady improvement in industrial and business activity.

A stable external position, supported by a manageable current account balance and consistent capital flows, reinforces confidence in India's long-term growth trajectory. Despite evolving global uncertainties, investor interest remains intact across key sectors, backed by policy stability and structural growth drivers.

Domestic demand continues to act as a key anchor, supported by stable inflation, rising mobility and travel activity, healthy tax collections and strong participation from domestic institutional investors.

Ongoing government initiatives to boost manufacturing, innovation, renewable energy and food security are further strengthening the foundation for sustained growth.

GEMS AND JEWELLERY MARKET

INTRODUCTION

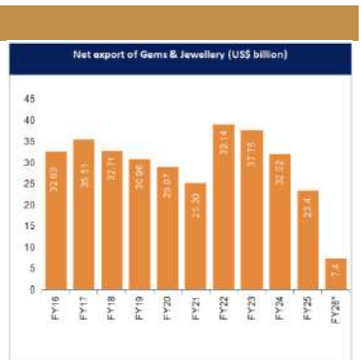

India's gold and diamond trade contributes about 7% to the country's Gross Domestic Product (GDP), with the Gems & Jewellery sector employing nearly five million people. Recognising its immense potential for growth and value addition, the Government has identified the sector as a focus area for export promotion. To strengthen 'Brand India' in the global market, several initiatives have been introduced, including measures to promote investment, upgrade technology, and enhance skills. The Government has also permitted 100% FDI in the sector under the automatic route, allowing foreign investors and Indian companies to invest without prior approvals. Further, the India-United Kingdom (UK) Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA), signed in July 2025, has eliminated import duties of 2.5-4% on plain gold and diamond jewellery, giving Indian exporters a competitive edge and expected to more than double India's Gems & Jewellery exports to the UK to Rs. 21,183 crore (US$ 2.5 billion) by 2027.

MARKET SIZE

India's Gems & Jewellery market size stood at Rs. 7,31,255 crore (US$ 85 billion) in January 2026 and is projected to expand to Rs. 11,18,390 crore (US$ 130 billion) by 2030. During FY26 (April-February 2026), India's gems and jewellery exports stood at US$ 25.93 billion.

The latest growth momentum is being driven by increasing global demand for gold jewellery and cut & polished diamonds, supported by favourable trade agreements and rising consumer spending in key markets such as the US, UK, and the Middle East.

INVESTMENTS/DEVELOPMENTS

Cumulative FDI inflows in diamond and gold ornaments in India stood at Rs. 9,727.03 crore (US$ 1.52 billion) between April 2000-December 2025.

Some of the key developments in this industry are listed below:

- Zeropearl VC led a US$ 0.65 million (Rs. 5.5 crore) pre-seed round in ONYA (Dec 2025 period), funding offline retail expansion and growth in India's fast-growing lab-grown diamond jewellery segment.
- BlueStone invested US$ 2.83 million (Rs. 25 crore) in lab-grown diamond brand Ethera in Feb 2026, supporting store expansion, omnichannel growth, and scaling India's emerging lab-grown jewellery segment.
- Global institutions including Citigroup and Société Générale invested US$ 19.30 million (Rs. 170.6 crore) in PNGS Reva (Feb 2026 IPO anchor round), backing expansion of its diamond jewellery business in India.

- India and Thailand signed three key Memorandum of Understanding (MoUs) at the Bangkok Gem and Jewellery Fair on February 22, 2025, fostering collaboration in gemstone standardisation, coloured gemstone trade and silver jewellery to deepen bilateral cooperation.

GOVERNMENT INITIATIVES

- In September 2025, the Government kept the Goods and Services Tax (GST) rate for the jewellery sector unchanged at 3%, and industry noted that broader GST reforms and cuts in other rates would indirectly support demand for gems and jewellery.

- Under Union Budget 2025-26, the customs tariff on jewellery (HSN code 7113) was reduced from 25% to 20% and on platinum findings from 25% to 5%, making jewellery more affordable and boosting domestic demand.

- In the Union Budget 2024, the government reduced the basic customs duty on gold and silver to around 6% and on platinum to about 6.4%, which remained unchanged in Budget 2026.

- The sector now has AEO status from the finance ministry, easing export-import processes with quicker cargo release 50% lower bank guarantees.

- The Indian government accepted the recommendation of GJEPC to promote indigenous manufacturing in the emerging Lab-grown diamond sector by providing research grants to the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) for five years.

- India has signed an FTA with the UAE, which will further boost exports and is expected to reach the target of US$ 52 billion.

- The Government has reduced customs duty on cut and polished diamonds and coloured gemstones from 7.5% to 5% and NIL.

- Revised SEZ Act is also expected to boost Gems & Jewellery exports.

ROAD AHEAD

The future of India's Gems & Jewellery sector will be shaped by the growing dominance of large retailers and established brands, which are steadily expanding their presence across the country. Organised players are not only introducing greater variety in terms of designs and product lines but are also driving higher levels of professionalism, transparency, and consumer trust in the market.

Policy support remains a key growth catalyst. The government's liberal measures, such as easing restrictions on gold imports, reintroducing low-cost gold metal loans, and promoting exports through favourable trade agreements, are providing a strong foundation for sustained expansion.

India is already recognised as a global hub for jewellery manufacturing, supported by ~450 organised manufacturers, importers, and exporters. These players, backed by increasing government support and rising global demand, are well-positioned to cater to both domestic and international markets. With these positive developments, India's Gems & Jewellery industry is projected to grow to Rs. 11,18,390 crore (US$ 130 billion) by 2030, reaffirming its pivotal role in the country's exports and retail ecosystem.

GOLD MARKET ANALYSIS

The Gold Market market is expected to grow from 4.75 kilotons in 2025 to 5.1 kilotons in 2026 and is forecast to reach 7.25 kilotons by 2031 at 7.30% CAGR over 2026-2031. Robust central-bank accumulation, persistent geopolitical risk, and the expanding role of gold in advanced electronics keep demand rising even as mined supply faces structural cost pressures. OUR BUSINESS PROCESS FLOWCHART

(AI Generated image)*

OUR BUSINESS PROCESS

Our business process is designed to support our retail-focused diamond jewellery business and is centred around in-house product conceptualisation, design development, product curation, quality review, inventory management and customer engagement. While our Company focuses on design, brand positioning, customer preferences and retail operations, the manufacturing and development of jewellery is undertaken through our product development and supply arrangement partners in accordance with our approved designs, specifications and quality standards.

1. Design and Product Conceptualisation

Our business process begins with in-house product conceptualisation and design development. Our focus is on creating curated, design-led and selectively introduced jewellery collections, rather than developing products in a repetitive or mass-market manner. Our team evaluates customer preferences, evolving design trends, wedding and festive demand, occasion-based requirements, daily-wear preferences and price positioning to conceptualise jewellery products suitable for our target customer segments.

At this stage, we develop concepts across product categories such as necklaces, earrings, rings, bracelets and other jewellery products, with emphasis on elegance, craftsmanship, exclusivity, wearability and contemporary design sensibilities. Our collections generally comprise select and limited designs, which enables us to maintain design distinctiveness and preserve the premium character of our offerings.

The designs are finalised after considering product aesthetics, diamond and gemstone placement, metal usage, finishing requirements, comfort, durability, customer preferences and the overall positioning of the "Omara" brand. This approach enables us to offer jewellery that is refined, distinctive and aligned with the expectations of customers seeking well-crafted and thoughtfully designed jewellery.

2. Procurement of Raw Materials

Based on the approved designs and product requirements, the procurement of diamonds, gemstones, precious metals and other materials is undertaken either directly by our Company or through our product development and supply arrangement partners, as may be required. Such procurement is carried out in line with our internal quality parameters, product specifications and business requirements.

The materials used in our jewellery may include natural diamonds, precious and semi-precious gemstones, gold, Platinum, silver and other allied materials. We endeavour to ensure that materials used in our jewellery meet the required standards relating to purity, quality, appearance and suitability for the relevant design.

3. Product Development

After finalisation of the design and sourcing of required materials, the jewellery is developed and manufactured through our product development and supply arrangement partners, based on our approved designs, specifications and production requirements. Our role during this stage includes coordination, design supervision, product review and monitoring of development in line with our brand and quality expectations.

The product development process involves conversion of approved designs into finished jewellery, including setting of diamonds and gemstones, finishing, polishing and other related processes. Each jewellery product is developed with emphasis on design execution, craftsmanship, finishing, durability and overall presentation. Further, each jewellery product sold by us is embossed or marked with the "Omara" logo/brand insignia, to support brand identification, product authenticity and consistency in presentation.

4. Quality Control and Inventory Management

Quality control is undertaken before jewellery products are introduced into our retail portfolio or offered for sale. Finished jewellery is reviewed for design conformity, diamond and gemstone setting, finishing, weight accuracy, polish, durability, overall appearance and alignment with our internal quality standards. Products which do not meet our quality expectations are suitably rectified or withheld from retail display until the required standards are achieved.

Our jewellery products are supported by applicable certifications, including BIS hallmarking for eligible precious metal jewellery and diamond grading/certification from recognised gemological laboratories such as the Gemological Institute of America (GIA), wherever applicable. These certifications support assurance in relation to purity, quality and authenticity.

Our Company also maintains inventory records through item-wise identification and barcode-based tracking. Each jewellery product is individually coded, enabling systematic monitoring of stock, sales and product movement. This assists us in maintaining inventory accuracy, reducing the risk of errors or misplacement and ensuring accountability over high-value jewellery products.

6. Retail Sales and Customer Service

Our finished jewellery products are offered primarily through our retail boutique under the brand name "Omara". Our retail process includes product display, customer interaction, product selection support, billing, certification handover and after-sales assistance. We cater to customers seeking jewellery for weddings, festivals, special occasions, gifting and daily wear.

We also provide customisation services, enabling customers to personalise jewellery designs based on their preferences, requirements and occasions. Our customer service approach focuses on product explanation, design guidance, quality assurance, certification support and relationship building. Through our retail sales and customer service process, we seek to provide a premium jewellery buying experience while maintaining trust, transparency and customer satisfaction.

   Our focus is on selectively introduced designs and curated collections, rather than repetitive or mass-market offerings. This enables us to maintain design distinctiveness, product relevance and the premium character of the "Omara" brand.

2. In-house product conceptualisation and design focus

   Our business model is centred around in-house product conceptualisation, design development, customer preference analysis, product curation and retail merchandising. This supports product identification, enhances brand visibility and reinforces the authenticity of jewellery sold by our Company. We believe that logo embossing on each jewellery product strengthens customer recall, reflects consistency in product presentation and supports the distinct positioning of the "Omara" brand in the jewellery retail market.

Our website and social media presence further support our brand visibility by showcasing our collections, bespoke services, design and latest creations and customer engagement content.

Our Company has not entered into any collaboration, tie-up, joint venture, performance guarantee arrangement or marketing assistance agreement with any other company as on the date of this Red Herring Prospectus, except for our ordinary course product development and supply arrangements with our artisans / product development and supply arrangement partners for the development and supply of jewellery based on our designs and business requirements.

QUALITY MEASURES

Quality assurance forms an integral part of our business operations and is applied across various stages, including product conceptualisation, sourcing of materials, manufacturing coordination, finishing, certification, inventory intake and final retail sale. Considering the nature of our business as a diamond jewellery retail brand, we place emphasis on design accuracy, product finish, diamond quality, metal purity and overall conformity with our internal quality standards.

Our jewellery is developed based on approved designs and product specifications. The sourcing of diamonds, gemstones, precious metals and other materials is undertaken from our approved suppliers and/or through our product development and supply arrangement partners, in line with our quality parameters. Where jewellery is manufactured through our authorised product development and supply arrangement partners, such manufacturing is carried out in accordance with our approved designs, specifications and requirements.

Each jewellery piece is reviewed for design conformity, stone setting, finishing, weight accuracy, durability, polish, overall appearance and alignment with our brand standards before being introduced into our retail portfolio. In addition, jewellery offered under our brand is embossed with our "Omara" logo, wherever technically feasible, to support product identification, brand consistency and authenticity. Any product which does not meet our internal quality expectations is suitably rectified or withheld from retail display until the required standards are achieved.

As our products include diamond jewellery, we also place reliance on recognised certification standards for diamonds, wherever applicable. Diamonds used in our jewellery may be accompanied by relevant certification, including certification from internationally recognised grading agencies such as the Gemological Institute of America (GIA), where applicable, which provides assurance in relation to key attributes such as cut, colour, clarity and carat weight.

Further, all eligible gold jewellery sold by us carries Hallmark Unique Identification (HUID) certification under the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) framework, thereby providing assurance in relation to purity and regulatory compliance. Through these measures, we seek to maintain consistency in product quality, enhance customer confidence and ensure that jewellery offered under the "Omara" brand meets our internal quality standards and customer expectations.

Our distribution strategy is primarily retail-led, supported by our boutique, private consultations, exhibitions, events, digital enquiries and personalised customer relationship initiatives.

COMPETITION

We operate in a competitive jewellery retail market and face competition from both organised and unorganised players, including established jewellery brands, regional retailers, local jewellers and boutique jewellery stores.

Competition in the jewellery retail industry is primarily based on design aesthetics, product quality, purity, craftsmanship, pricing, customer service, trust and brand positioning. Organised players generally compete through brand value, product range, retail experience, certification standards and after-sales service, while unorganised players may compete on pricing, local relationships and customised offerings.

We believe that our competitive position is influenced by our ability to offer curated jewellery designs, maintain consistent quality standards, ensure product authenticity, provide a premium retail experience and build long-term customer relationships. Our focus on in-house product conceptualisation, design development, quality review and customer engagement, supported by our product development and supply arrangement partners, enables us to cater to evolving customer preferences in the jewellery retail market.

GENERAL CORPORATE LAWS

The Companies Act, 2013:

The Companies Act, 2013 provides a comprehensive legal framework for the formation, governance, management, and regulation of jewellery businesses incorporated as companies in India, covering incorporation procedures, shareholding structures, corporate governance norms, and the roles and duties of directors and Key Managerial Personnel (KMPs) to ensure transparency and accountability. It is particularly relevant to jewellers in areas such as capital raising through shares or debentures, mergers and acquisitions, restructuring, and corporate financing, while also mandating the maintenance of statutory registers, audits, and annual financial reporting. The Act further safeguards minority shareholders' rights and provides mechanisms for dispute resolution, which are especially important in family-run or closely held jewellery firms. Additionally, under Section 135 on Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), eligible companies must contribute to social initiatives, promoting ethical practices. Overall, compliance with the Act helps jewellery companies operate legally, build stakeholder confidence, and achieve sustainable growth in a competitive, high-value industry.

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016:

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), 2016 provides a structured and time-bound legal framework for resolving insolvency and financial distress in jewellery businesses, whether operating as sole proprietorships, partnerships, LLPs, or companies. It enables a jeweller in default of payments to creditors, suppliers, or financial institutions to undergo the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP), which may be initiated by the business itself or by any financial or operational creditor, whether secured or unsecured. The Code aims to preserve the economic value of the business by facilitating its restructuring, sale, or revival within a prescribed period, subject to extension in specific cases. It also protects the interests of key stakeholders, including employees, suppliers of gold, diamonds, and other materials, banks, and customers who have made advance payments. Overall, the IBC offers a transparent, enforceable, and collective mechanism for addressing financial distress, minimizing prolonged disputes, and supporting business continuity, thereby strengthening stakeholder confidence in the jewellery sector.

SEBI Act, Rules and Regulations:

The SEBI Act, 1992, along with its rules and regulations, applies to jewellery companies that are listed or intend to raise capital through the securities market, imposing strict compliance requirements to ensure transparency, accountability, and investor protection. Jewellers must adhere to provisions relating to the issue and allotment of securities, listing and delisting, continuous disclosure obligations, insider trading restrictions, and substantial acquisition of shares. Key regulations include the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 for periodic disclosures and financial transparency; the SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018 governing public and rights issues; the SEBI (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015 to prevent misuse of unpublished price-sensitive information; and the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011 regulating major share acquisitions and takeovers. Compliance with these frameworks enables jewellery companies to maintain investor confidence, uphold market integrity, avoid regulatory penalties, and efficiently raise capital for expansion, acquisitions, and modernization of operations.

Transfer of Property Act, 1882:

The Transfer of Property Act, 1882 governs the legal transfer of immovable property and related interests, making it highly relevant for jewellers in relation to boutiques, manufacturing units, warehouses, and other business premises. It permits transactions such as sale, mortgage, lease, exchange, and creation of charges, each carrying specific legal implications—for instance, purchasing property through a sale deed, securing loans via mortgages on business premises, or operating outlets under lease agreements. Temporary use arrangements, such as exhibition spaces, may fall under leave and license without transferring ownership interests. The Act ensures that only lawful rights and interests held by the transferor can be transferred, thereby protecting jewellers from disputes over title or encumbrances. Compliance with requirements relating to registration, stamping, and documentation ensures that property rights are legally valid, enforceable, and recognized by courts, facilitating smooth operations, access to financing, and expansion of jewellery businesses.

The Registration Act, 1908:

The Registration Act, 1908 establishes the legal framework for the registration of documents relating to immovable property and certain transactions, which is particularly relevant for jewellers in respect of their boutiques, shops, manufacturing units, and warehouses. It mandates the compulsory registration of non-testamentary instruments that create, assign, limit, or extinguish rights in immovable property—such as sale deeds, long-term lease agreements, and mortgages—commonly used by jewellers when acquiring or leasing commercial premises. The Act also permits optional registration of other documents, enhancing their evidentiary value in case of disputes. For jewellers, proper registration ensures legal recognition and enforceability of property and tenancy rights, strengthens agreements with landlords and financial institutions, and reduces the risk of future litigation over ownership or encumbrances. Overall, compliance with the Act supports secure property transactions and facilitates the smooth operation and expansion of jewellery businesses.

The Specific Relief Act, 1963:

The Specific Relief Act, 1963 provides a legal framework for enforcing civil rights through remedies such as specific performance and injunctions, which is particularly significant for jewellers given the high value and unique nature of their goods. It enables jewellers to seek enforcement of contracts involving the sale or supply of specific jewellery items, custom-made designs, or bulk transactions in precious metals and gemstones, where monetary compensation may be inadequate due to the uniqueness of the subject matter. Courts may direct parties to fulfill their contractual obligations—such as delivering bespoke jewellery or honoring supply agreements—rather than merely awarding damages. The Act also allows for injunctions to prevent breaches, such as restraining a supplier from selling reserved or exclusive items to others. By focusing on the enforcement of contractual obligations and protection of individual rights, the Act helps jewellers safeguard their commercial interests, ensure reliability in transactions, and maintain trust in both business-to-business and retail operations.

Sales of Goods Act, 1930:

The Sale of Goods Act, 1930 provides the legal framework governing the sale and purchase of goods, including gold, silver, gemstones, and finished jewellery, thereby regulating transactions between jewellers, suppliers, and customers. It defines a contract of sale as an agreement where the seller transfers or agrees to transfer ownership of goods to the buyer for a price, covering both immediate sales and future delivery arrangements. The Act broadly defines "goods" to include all movable property, encompassing raw materials as well as finished jewellery items. Key provisions relevant to jewellers include rules on transfer of ownership, passing of risk, delivery obligations, and implied conditions and warranties relating to title, quality, and conformity with description. For instance, jewellers are required to ensure that jewellery sold is free from encumbrances, meets agreed specifications, and adheres to applicable standards such as hallmarking. The Act also provides remedies for breach of contract, including the buyer's right to reject defective goods or claim damages and the seller's right to recover payment. Overall, it promotes fair, secure, and transparent transactions in both retail and wholesale jewellery operations.

The Indian Contract Act, 1872:

The Indian Contract Act, 1872, as applied to jewellers, provides the foundational legal framework governing all contracts and commercial transactions within the jewellery industry, including purchase and sale agreements, supply contracts, consignment arrangements, and employment contracts. The Act ensures that contracts entered into by jewellers with suppliers, customers, and business partners are legally enforceable, covering both general principles of contract law (Sections 1–75) such as offer, acceptance, consideration, capacity, free consent, and legality of object, as well as special contracts (Sections 124–238) like contracts of bailment, pledge, agency, and guarantee, which are particularly relevant in jewellery dealings. For instance, jewellers often rely on bailment and pledge contracts when providing gold or gemstones for manufacturing or securing loans against jewellery. Agency provisions are used when jewellers appoint sales agents or distributors, and guarantees are common in transactions involving bank finance or credit from suppliers. By providing a structured legal framework, the Act ensures that jewellers can securely conduct business, enforce rights, mitigate risks of breach, and resolve disputes, thereby maintaining trust and stability in both retail and wholesale jewellery operations.

The Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881:

The Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 establishes the legal framework for the use, transfer, and enforcement of instruments such as cheques, promissory notes, and bills of exchange, which are widely used by jewellers in high-value transactions and credit arrangements. Jewellers rely on these instruments for purchasing raw materials, making payments to suppliers, and extending credit to customers, making the Act essential for ensuring secure and legally enforceable financial dealings. It provides remedies in cases of dishonour, particularly under Section 138, where a bounced cheque issued in transactions involving gold, gemstones, or jewellery can result in criminal liability and facilitate recovery. The Act also regulates endorsement, delivery, and negotiation, enabling efficient settlement of trade obligations. Further, amendments such as the Negotiable Instruments (Amendment) Act, 2018, introducing provisions like Sections 143A and 148, strengthen creditor protection by allowing interim compensation during pending proceedings. Overall, compliance with the Act helps jewellers safeguard financial interests, manage credit effectively, and maintain trust and stability in both retail and wholesale operations.

Information Technology Act, 2000:

The Information Technology Act, 2000 provides the legal framework for conducting secure and legally recognized electronic transactions and maintaining digital records, which is increasingly important for jewellers adopting e-commerce, online sales, and digital payment systems. It grants legal validity to electronic contracts, communications, and records, enabling jewellers to replace traditional paper-based processes with efficient digital methods. The Act also facilitates the use of digital signatures and electronic authentication to ensure the integrity and authenticity of agreements with suppliers, customers, and financial institutions. Additionally, it addresses cybersecurity and data protection concerns, which are critical for safeguarding sensitive customer information, payment data, and proprietary designs. Amendments, including updates to the First Schedule, have further expanded the scope for electronic execution of documents such as agreements and invoices. Overall, compliance with the IT Act helps jewellers reduce risks related to cyber threats, enhance operational efficiency through digitalization, and support secure and modern business practices in the jewellery industry.

Industrial (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951:

The Industrial (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 provides a framework for licensing and regulating industrial enterprises, but most jewellery businesses are largely exempt from licensing under the liberalized regime introduced by the New Industrial Policy of July 24, 1991. While the Act initially required licenses for manufacturing units, jewellers producing gold, silver, and precious or semi-precious jewellery generally do not fall under restricted or sensitive industries such as defense, alcohol, explosives, or hazardous chemicals, allowing them to commence operations freely. However, jewellers must file an Industrial Entrepreneurs Memorandum (IEM) with the Secretariat for Industrial Assistance (SIA) under the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion as a formal notification of establishing or expanding a manufacturing unit. Once the IEM is submitted, operations may proceed without further licensing, though jewellers remain subject to other statutory obligations, including the Jewellery (Control and Regulation) Acts, tax laws, hallmarking standards, and safety regulations. This framework balances regulatory oversight with a liberalized business environment, fostering entrepreneurship and structured growth within the jewellery sector.

The Indian Stamp Act, 1899:

The Indian Stamp Act, 1899 regulates the payment of stamp duty on instruments and documents executed in the course of business, which is particularly relevant for jewellers dealing with high-value transactions. This includes sale deeds, lease agreements, mortgages, partnership deeds, contracts for goods, and bills of exchange. Stamp duty becomes critical when jewellers transfer ownership of commercial premises, secure loans against property or inventory, enter supplier contracts, or execute agreements for bulk purchases of gold, gemstones, or other materials. Proper stamping ensures that such documents are legally admissible in court, safeguarding enforceability and authenticity, while non-compliance can lead to penalties, fines, or inadmissibility in legal proceedings. Adhering to the Stamp Act thus protects jewellers' commercial agreements, property rights, and financial transactions, providing legal certainty and supporting smooth operations in both retail and wholesale jewellery businesses.

Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996:

The Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 provides a legal framework for resolving commercial disputes outside of traditional courts through arbitration and conciliation, which is particularly valuable for jewellers due to the high-value, specialized, and time-sensitive nature of their transactions. Jewellery businesses can incorporate arbitration clauses in contracts with suppliers, customers, manufacturers, or franchisees to address issues such as delayed deliveries, defective goods, payment defaults, or breaches of agreement efficiently, confidentially, and cost-effectively. The Act regulates the appointment of arbitrators, conduct of proceedings, enforcement of arbitral awards, and conciliation processes, allowing jewellers to maintain business continuity without prolonged litigation. Conciliation also offers a flexible, mutually agreed approach to resolve disputes amicably, preserving long-term business relationships in the close-knit jewellery trade. Compliance with the Act helps jewellers mitigate financial and reputational risks, enforce contracts effectively, and secure timely resolution of both domestic and international trade disputes.

BUSINESS AND / OR KEY INDUSTRY AND/OR TRADE RELATED LAWS AND REGULATIONS

The Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016:

The Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016 (BIS Act), effective from October 12, 2017, provides a legal framework for standardization, certification, and quality enforcement in India, with direct relevance to jewellery businesses. The Act mandates hallmarking of precious metal articles, such as gold and silver, to ensure purity and build consumer trust, while requiring manufacturers and retailers to obtain BIS certification and registration before affixing the BIS Standard Mark on products. Non-compliance attracts penalties, including fines and imprisonment, for selling substandard items or misusing the Standard Mark. The Act also strengthens consumer protection by empowering BIS to recall defective products and require compensation. By enforcing adherence to prescribed quality standards, the BIS Act promotes ethical practices, safeguards consumer interests, and enhances credibility and confidence in the jewellery industry.

The Bureau of Indian Standards (Hallmarking) Regulations, 2018:

The Bureau of Indian Standards (Hallmarking) Regulations, 2018, along with its 2022 amendments, establish a comprehensive framework for jewellers to ensure authenticity, purity, and consumer protection in the sale of precious metal articles. Under these regulations, all jewellers must obtain a BIS registration certificate for each sales premise, display it onsite, and ensure the details are available on the BIS website. The regulations mandate hallmarking of gold and silver jewellery and artefacts, with jewellers solely responsible for the purity and fineness of hallmarked items and liable for any discrepancies. Hallmarking is conducted through BIS-recognized Assaying and Hallmarking Centres, with revised fees for gold and silver payable by jewellers and collected by BIS. From April 1, 2023, all gold items must carry a 6-digit alphanumeric Hallmark Unique Identification (HUID), allowing consumers to trace the jeweller, verify purity, and identify the hallmarking centre. These provisions promote compliance with quality standards, enhance consumer confidence, and ensure accountability and transparency within the jewellery industry.

The Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts Order, 2020:

The Hallmarking of Gold Jewellery and Gold Artefacts Orders (2020, 2021, and 2023) provide a comprehensive regulatory framework for mandatory hallmarking and consumer protection in the jewellery sector. Under the 2020 Order, effective June 16, 2021, gold jewellery and artefacts can only be sold by BIS-registered jewellers through certified sales outlets, in compliance with their BIS Hallmarking registration, with exceptions for exports, gold threads, items weighing less than two grams, and consignments to BIS-recognized Assaying and Hallmarking Centres. The 2021 Second Amendment expanded exemptions to include exports and re-imports under Government trade policy, domestic and international B2B exhibitions, special jewellery types such as Kundan, Polki, and Jadaau, watches, fountain pens, and jewellers with annual turnover up to ₹40,00,000. The 2023 Amendments reinforced compliance by mandating that after March 31, 2023, no gold jewellery or artefacts may be sold, displayed, or offered for sale without hallmarking as per IS 1417:2016 standards, while allowing sale of declared old stock until June 30, 2023. Collectively, these Orders ensure jewellers uphold high standards of purity, traceability, and consumer confidence, while providing a structured transition framework for existing inventory.

BIS Scheme for hallmarking of Gold and Silver Jewellery:

Hallmarking is the precise determination and official certification of the purity of precious metals in jewellery, artefacts, bullion, or coins, serving as a critical mechanism for compliance, quality assurance, and consumer trust in the jewellery industry. In India, the BIS hallmarking system certifies that gold and silver jewellery meet the standards set by the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS). Gold hallmarking, introduced in April 2000, follows standards such as IS 1417 (Grades of Gold and Gold Alloys), IS 1418 (Assaying of Gold), IS 2790 (Manufacturing Guidelines for Gold Alloys), and IS 3095 (Gold Solders), specifying primary grades of 14, 18, and 22 Carat, with amendments including 20, 23, and 24 Carat. Silver hallmarking, effective from December 2005 under IS 2112:2014, defines six grades of silver alloys (990, 970, 925, 900, 835, 800) for jewellery and artefacts. Compliance with these standards is mandatory for jewellery companies to ensure authenticity, build consumer confidence, maintain traceability, and avoid legal or financial liabilities for misrepresentation. Hallmarked jewellery also allows businesses to integrate BIS certification, register their premises, and utilize Hallmark Unique Identification (HUID) tracking for gold, ensuring accountability across manufacturing, marketing, and sales operations.

Guidelines For Grant, Operation, Surveillance and Cancellation of Certificate of Registration of Jewellers:

The Guidelines for Grant, Operation, Surveillance, and Cancellation of Certificate of Registration (CoR) provide a comprehensive framework for jewellery companies to legally manufacture, sell, or trade hallmarked precious metal articles. Under these guidelines, a company must apply for a CoR from BIS, specifying the premises for hallmarking and sale, and meet eligibility criteria including adequate infrastructure, skilled workforce, and quality control systems. Once granted, the CoR is valid for a specified period, must be prominently displayed, and all gold and silver articles sold must conform to BIS hallmarking standards. The guidelines mandate regular surveillance and inspections by BIS or recognized Assaying and Hallmarking Centres to ensure compliance with purity, fineness, and operational protocols, with penalties for selling unhallmarked or substandard items. Jewellery companies are required to maintain records of hallmarking operations, HUID allocations for gold, and customer complaints to ensure traceability and accountability. Cancellation or suspension of the CoR may result from repeated violations, false declarations, or failure to uphold quality standards. These guidelines ensure transparent operations, safeguard consumer interests, maintain the integrity of the precious metals trade, and foster trust in hallmarked jewellery.

Anti-Money Laundering, Countering the Financing of Terrorism, and Combating Proliferation Financing Guidelines for Dealers in Precious Metals and Precious Stones, 2023 (the "Guidelines) under Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967, and Weapons of Mass Destruction and their Delivery Systems (Prohibition of Unlawful Activities) Act, 2005:

The Anti-Money Laundering, Countering the Financing of Terrorism, and Combating Proliferation Financing Guidelines for Dealers in Precious Metals and Precious Stones, 2023 establish a regulatory framework for jewellery companies to prevent illicit financial activities under the PMLA, 2002, UAPA, 1967, and the Weapons of Mass Destruction (Prohibition of Unlawful Activities) Act, 2005. Jewellery companies must implement robust Know Your Customer (KYC) and Customer Due Diligence (CDD) procedures, particularly for high-value transactions, to verify clients' identity, address, and financial background. They are required to maintain comprehensive records—including invoices, receipts, and shipment documents—for traceability and transparency, monitor for suspicious activities, and report unusual transactions to the Financial Intelligence Unit-India (FIU-IND). Internal policies for risk assessment, employee training on AML/CFT/CPF compliance, and appointment of a designated compliance officer are mandatory. Companies must also screen against sanctioned individuals and entities, ensure legitimate sourcing of precious metals and stones, and prevent their operations from being used for financing terrorism, proliferation, or other unlawful activities. Non-compliance can result in penalties, criminal liability, or suspension of business, ensuring that the jewellery sector operates with integrity and supports national and global financial security.

The Legal Metrology Act, 2009:

The Legal Metrology Act, 2009 sets standards for weights and measures, packaging, and labeling to ensure accuracy, transparency, and consumer protection, which are especially important for jewellery companies dealing in precious metals and stones. Under the Act, all weighing instruments, such as digital scales and balances used for gold, silver, or gemstone transactions, must be certified, verified, and periodically calibrated by authorized officials. Jewellery products must carry accurate weight declarations, and pre-packaged items must display mandatory information, including net and gross weight, metal purity, manufacturer or seller details, and maximum retail price (MRP), as per prescribed standards. Companies are also required to maintain records of calibration, sales, and packaging for inspection by legal metrology authorities. Non-compliance, such as misrepresentation of weight or improper labeling, can attract penalties, fines, and legal action. Adherence to the Legal Metrology Act ensures statutory compliance, promotes fair trade, enhances consumer trust, and upholds precision and transparency in the sale of precious metals and gemstones.

Legal Metrology (Packaged Commodities) Amendment Rules, 2023 ("Packaged Commodity Rules"):

The Legal Metrology (Packaged Commodities) Amendment Rules, 2023 ("Packaged Commodity Rules") set updated requirements for jewellery companies regarding the packaging, labeling, and declaration of pre-packaged precious metals and jewellery to ensure transparency and consumer protection. Under these Rules, all pre-packaged gold, silver, platinum, or gemstone jewellery must be accurately weighed and labeled with mandatory details, including net and gross weight, metal purity or fineness, manufacturer or packer information, maximum retail price (MRP) in Indian Rupees, and date of packing. The Rules also require display of unique identification numbers, batch or lot numbers, and any hallmarks or certification marks to enable traceability and authenticity verification. Jewellery companies must maintain proper records of packaging, labeling, and calibration of weighing instruments for inspection by legal metrology authorities. Non-compliance—such as mislabeling, inaccurate weights, or omission of mandatory information—can result in penalties, fines, or legal action. Adhering to the Packaged Commodity Rules, 2023 helps jewellery companies ensure regulatory compliance, protect consumer rights, build trust in product quality, and maintain accountability in the sale of precious metal jewellery and artefacts.

Payment and Settlements Systems Act, 2007:

The Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007 (PSS Act) establishes the legal framework for regulating and supervising payment systems in India, directly affecting jewellery companies engaged in electronic or digital transactions. Under the Act, companies accepting payments via cards, UPI, mobile wallets, or online banking must route transactions through regulated and authorized payment system operators (PSOs) or banks, reducing fraud risk and ensuring legal enforceability. The Act requires timely, secure, and transparent settlement of funds between buyers and jewellers, including provisions for handling disputes, reversals, or chargebacks. Jewellery companies offering layaway, advance payments, or EMI options must comply with norms on settlement finality, electronic record-keeping, and transaction auditability. Compliance also aligns with Reserve Bank of India (RBI) regulations governing digital payment infrastructure, thereby enhancing consumer confidence, financial security, and operational transparency in high-value transactions involving gold, silver, and diamond jewellery.

Gem and Jewellery Export Promotion Council:

The Gem and Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) is a statutory body established by the Government of India to promote the export of gems and jewellery, playing a vital role for jewellery companies engaged in international trade. Affiliation with GJEPC provides jewellery companies access to export promotion initiatives, trade fairs, and buyer-seller meets, both domestically and globally, enhancing market reach and visibility. The Council assists companies in complying with export regulations, quality standards, hallmarking norms, and foreign trade policies, including certification and documentation for customs clearance and international shipments. Jewellery companies also benefit from GJEPC's training programs, design and technology support, and market intelligence, helping them improve product quality, adopt global trends, and remain competitive. Additionally, GJEPC advocates for exporters' interests with the government, addresses industry-specific challenges, and provides guidance on tax incentives, duty drawback schemes, and trade policy benefits, supporting sustainable growth in the global gem and jewellery industry.

All India Gems and Jewellery Domestic Council:

The All-India Gems and Jewellery Domestic Council (GJDC) is an industry body dedicated to promoting and regulating the domestic gems and jewellery market in India, providing vital support to jewellery companies operating locally. For a jewellery company, GJDC helps standardize trade practices, ensure ethical business conduct, and promote transparency in domestic transactions. The Council guides compliance with regulatory requirements, including hallmarking, taxation, and consumer protection laws, while advising on quality standards and product certification. Membership enables participation in industry forums, exhibitions, and trade fairs, facilitating networking, marketing, and brand building. GJDC also represents domestic jewellers' interests with government authorities, offering advocacy on policy matters, market development initiatives, and dispute resolution support. Additionally, it provides training, skill development, and awareness programs, enhancing operational efficiency, compliance, and competitiveness, fostering consumer trust, and supporting the overall growth of India's domestic gems and jewellery sector.

Reserve Bank of India Circulars regulating Gold Loans:

RBI circulars regulating gold loans provide the framework for jewellery companies, particularly those offering gold-backed financing or partnering with banks and NBFCs, to operate securely and compliantly. These circulars set eligibility criteria, loan-to-value (LTV) ratios, interest rates, and tenure norms for loans against gold jewellery, ensuring adequate security and adherence to RBI guidelines. They also outline documentation, reporting, and due diligence requirements, mandating proper records of pledged gold, verification of purity and authenticity, and safeguarding of assets. Additionally, RBI directives guide risk management practices, including insurance of pledged gold, recovery procedures in case of default, and periodic audits. Compliance with these circulars ensures legal conformity, financial transparency, consumer protection, and mitigation of operational and credit risks, thereby fostering trust among lenders and customers in gold loan operations.

Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002:

The Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, imposes statutory obligations on jewellery companies to prevent their operations from being used for money laundering or terrorist financing. Companies must maintain detailed records of all transactions, especially cash and high-value purchases, verify customer identities through KYC norms, and report suspicious activities to the Financial Intelligence Unit – India (FIU-IND). Jewellery firms are required to implement internal compliance programs, including appointing a designated reporting officer, conducting staff training, and establishing monitoring systems to detect unusual or suspicious transactions. They must retain transaction records for the prescribed period and cooperate with regulatory authorities during investigations. Non-compliance can result in significant penalties, including fines and attachment of assets. Adhering to PMLA regulations ensures legal compliance, enhances credibility with banks, financial institutions, and customers, and protects the company from reputational and financial risks associated with illicit money flows.

Consumer Protection Act, 2019 (the "Consumer Protection Act") and the rules made thereunder:

The Consumer Protection Act, 2019 (CPA 2019) imposes comprehensive obligations on jewellery companies to protect consumer rights and ensure fair business practices. Companies must provide accurate information on the purity, weight, price, and hallmarking of precious metals and stones, as well as clear policies on returns, exchanges, and warranties. They are required to avoid unfair trade practices, including misleading advertisements or product misrepresentation, and address customer complaints promptly and effectively. The Act empowers consumers to file complaints with Consumer Dispute Redressal Commissions at the district, state, or national level for defective or deficient services, including issues related to jewellery quality or delivery. Jewellery companies must maintain proper billing, documentation, and transparency to facilitate dispute resolution and compliance with consumer rights. Non-compliance can lead to penalties, fines, and imprisonment for responsible officers, making adherence to CPA 2019 essential for customer trust, legal compliance, and maintaining a credible market reputation.

Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023:

The Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023, provides a legal framework for jewellery companies to collect, store, process, and transfer personal data of customers, employees, and vendors. Companies must obtain explicit consent before collecting personal data—such as names, contact details, payment information, and transaction history—and ensure it is used only for legitimate purposes, including order fulfillment, loyalty programs, marketing (with consent), and regulatory compliance. The Act requires reasonable security safeguards, such as encryption, secure storage, and controlled access, to prevent unauthorized access or breaches. Jewellery businesses must appoint a Data Protection Officer (if applicable) and maintain grievance redressal mechanisms for addressing complaints related to data misuse. Cross-border data transfers, for instance through foreign e-commerce platforms, must comply with consent or approved frameworks. Non-compliance can attract penalties, making adherence essential for accountability, transparency, and consumer trust while protecting sensitive personal information in the company's digital operations.

TAX RELATED REGUATIONS

Income Tax Act, 1961:

The Income Tax Act, 1961, governs the computation, reporting, and payment of taxes for a jewellery company on income from sales of jewellery, bullion, and related services. Companies must maintain accurate books of accounts covering purchases, sales, production costs, overheads, and profits, including cash and credit transactions, to determine taxable income. The Act requires deduction of tax at source (TDS) on salaries, contractor payments, and certain vendor payments, and tax collection at source (TCS) on sales of precious metals and high-value goods. Profits from domestic and international sales, including exports, are subject to corporate tax, surcharge, and applicable cess, with deductions for eligible business expenses, depreciation, and charitable contributions. Jewellery companies must also comply with GST provisions, advance tax payments, annual income tax filings, and, where relevant, transfer pricing rules for related-party international transactions. Non-compliance can result in penalties, interest, or prosecution, making adherence essential for legal compliance and efficient financial management in the jewellery business.

Income Tax Act, 2025 and Rules:

The Income Tax Act, 2025, effective from April 1, 2026, is the principal legislation governing the levy, computation, and payment of income tax in India, replacing the Income Tax Act, 1961. It consolidates provisions relating to taxable income, deductions, exemptions, TDS/TCS, assessment, appeals, and penalties, providing a simplified and modernized framework for direct taxation. The Act is supplemented by the Income-tax Rules, 2026, which prescribe procedural and compliance requirements, including filing of returns, maintenance of records, audit, and reporting obligations. Compliance with the Act and Rules is mandatory for all income earned by the Company, including revenues from domestic and international jewellery sales, ensuring proper tax administration, legal adherence, and financial transparency.

The Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 (CGST Act) and Union Territory Goods and Services Tax (UTGST):

Jewellery companies operating in Union Territories without a legislature, such as Chandigarh, Dadra & Nagar Haveli, Daman & Diu, Lakshadweep, and Ladakh, are subject to the CGST Act, 2017, and the corresponding UTGST provisions. Under this framework, intra-UT sales of goods and services, including gold, silver, diamonds, and other precious metals or stones, are liable to CGST levied by the Central Government and UTGST levied by the respective Union Territory government. The taxes are collected, deposited, and reported through the GST portal, with compliance obligations including proper invoicing, input tax credit claims, and periodic return filings. Inter-UT or interstate transactions attract Integrated GST (IGST), administered by the Central Government and apportioned between the Centre and UTs under the IGST Act. Jewellery companies must also adhere to valuation rules, reverse charge mechanisms (where applicable), composition scheme eligibility, and maintain accurate records of purchases and sales to ensure timely payment and avoid penalties or interest, thereby ensuring compliance with the GST regime

Integrated Goods and Service Tax Act, 2017:

The IGST Act governs the levy and collection of Integrated Goods and Services Tax on inter-state supplies of goods and services, including transactions by jewellery companies involving gold, silver, diamonds, gemstones, and other precious metal or stone jewellery across state borders or from a Union Territory to a State. Under this framework, the supplier charges IGST on invoices, collects it from the buyer, and deposits it with the Central Government, which subsequently apportions the tax between the Centre and the destination State or Union Territory. Jewellery companies are required to maintain detailed records of inter-state sales, proper invoicing, and utilization of input tax credits to offset IGST liability. The Act also applies to imports and exports of jewellery, with IGST levied on imports and exports being zero-rated, allowing claims for refunds of input taxes. Compliance with invoicing, return filing, reconciliation of IGST transactions, and timely payment is mandatory, with non-compliance attracting interest, penalties, or legal action, ensuring that cross-border transactions of jewellery companies remain fully GST-compliant.

Customs Act, 1962 and the Customs Tariff Act, 1975:

These Acts regulate the import and export of goods, including precious metals, gemstones, and jewellery, and prescribe the applicable duties, procedures, and compliance requirements for jewellery companies. Imports of gold, silver, diamonds, gemstones, or finished jewellery are subject to duties including Basic Customs Duty (BCD), Integrated Goods and Services Tax (IGST), Compensation Cess, and other charges as notified by the Government. Jewellery companies importing raw materials or finished products must comply with customs clearance procedures, such as filing bills of entry, submitting import documentation, making valuation declarations, and adhering to BIS standards for hallmarked items. Exports of jewellery are generally zero-rated under IGST or eligible for duty exemptions, provided documentation and compliance with the Foreign Trade Policy are maintained. The Customs Tariff Act, 1975 prescribes specific tariff classifications and rates for different types of precious metals, stones, and jewellery, determining the applicable duties. Non-compliance may result in penalties, confiscation, or prosecution, making accurate record-keeping, adherence to valuation norms, and utilization of lawful exemptions or refunds critical for jewellery companies.

ENVIRONMENT LAWS

National Environmental Policy (NEP), 2006:

NEP 2006 provides a framework for sustainable development and environmental protection in India. For a jewellery company, it emphasizes environmentally responsible practices across all operations, including the sourcing of metals and gemstones, manufacturing processes, and disposal of chemical wastes from refining, polishing, or plating activities. Companies are expected to comply with pollution control norms, manage effluents and emissions, and adopt eco-friendly and energy-efficient technologies to minimize environmental impact. Sustainable sourcing, including use of conflict-free or certified materials, aligns with the policy's focus on social and ecological responsibility. Adoption of waste reduction measures, resource-efficient practices, and employee and customer awareness programs further integrates environmental sustainability into the business, supporting the broader objectives of NEP 2006.

Environmental Legislations:

Jewellery companies are required to comply with environmental laws aimed at protecting natural resources, controlling pollution, and promoting sustainability. Key regulations include the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981, the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974, the Hazardous and Other Wastes (Management and Transboundary Movement) Rules, 2016, and the National Green Tribunal Act, 2010. Compliance involves managing air, water, and soil pollution, safely handling chemicals used in refining or plating, treating effluents, and ensuring proper disposal of hazardous waste. Companies are encouraged to adopt eco-friendly and energy-efficient technologies, implement sustainable sourcing and recycling of precious metals, and reduce their carbon footprint. These measures ensure regulatory compliance, promote corporate social responsibility, and enhance consumer trust in the brand.

Environment Impact Assessment Notification of 2006:

Jewellery companies operating facilities involving mining, metal refining, gemstone processing, or large-scale manufacturing may fall under the EIA Notification, 2006, requiring prior environmental clearance from the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC) or the State Environmental Impact Assessment Authority. Compliance involves preparing an Environmental Impact Assessment report assessing resource usage, potential air and water pollution, waste management, and mitigation measures. Public consultation may be required for projects with significant local impact. Post-clearance, companies must implement prescribed mitigation measures, monitor environmental parameters, and submit regular compliance reports. Adherence to the EIA Notification ensures sustainable operations, reduces environmental liability, and aligns with corporate social responsibility while maintaining stakeholder and consumer trust.

REGULATIONS RELATED TO FOREIGN TRADE AND INVESTMENT

The Foreign Direct Investment:

The FDI policy in India, regulated by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) and governed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), provides the framework for foreign investment into Indian companies, including those in the jewellery sector. Jewellery companies may receive FDI under the automatic route or government route, subject to sector-specific provisions, ownership limits, and compliance with pricing and repatriation rules. FDI is permitted in manufacturing, wholesale, and branded retail segments, with certain conditions such as local sourcing requirements, reporting of foreign equity, dividends, and capital transactions to the RBI, and adherence to applicable caps. Compliance with the FDI policy enables access to foreign capital, technology collaboration, global branding, and export expansion, while ensuring adherence to FEMA regulations, corporate governance norms, and sectoral approvals.

Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 ("FEMA") and Regulations framed thereunder:

FEMA and the regulations framed thereunder govern cross-border financial transactions, foreign investments, and external trade in India, and are critical for jewellery companies engaged in imports, exports, or foreign funding. Under FEMA, a jewellery company must comply with RBI guidelines for receipt and remittance of foreign currency, import of gold, precious stones, and other raw materials, repatriation of profits from foreign investments, and payments to overseas suppliers. The Act also governs FDI, ensuring adherence to sectoral caps, automatic or government route approvals, and proper documentation of foreign equity and profit repatriation. Jewellery companies are required to maintain records of foreign exchange transactions for audit and reporting purposes. Non-compliance may result in penalties, confiscation of foreign exchange, or restrictions on cross-border operations. FEMA thus provides a legal framework enabling jewellery companies to conduct international trade and investment transparently while ensuring regulatory compliance.

Ownership restrictions of FIIs:

FIIs are permitted to invest in listed and unlisted Indian companies, including those in the jewellery sector, subject to sector-specific caps under the FDI policy and SEBI regulations. For a jewellery company, FIIs can generally hold equity up to the prescribed limits under the automatic route, while investments exceeding specified thresholds require prior approval from the Government of India. FIIs are restricted from exercising management control or participating directly in daily operations, ensuring that operational authority remains with Indian stakeholders. They must also comply with SEBI-mandated reporting and disclosure requirements, including ownership declarations, transaction reporting, and adherence to pricing norms for securities. These regulations allow jewellery companies to access foreign capital for business expansion, imports, and technology enhancement while safeguarding strategic control and operational integrity.

Laws related to Overseas Investment by Indian Entities:

Laws governing overseas investment set out the regulatory framework under which an Indian jewellery company can invest in foreign entities or establish operations abroad. Such investments are primarily regulated under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA) and Reserve Bank of India (RBI) guidelines, including the Liberalised Remittance Scheme (LRS) and the Overseas Direct Investment (ODI) framework. An Indian jewellery company may invest in foreign subsidiaries, joint ventures, or acquire stakes in overseas businesses, subject to prescribed limits, reporting obligations, and approval routes—automatic or government route—depending on the sector and transaction value. Compliance requires filing of prescribed forms with the RBI, maintaining proper accounting records, and ensuring that the overseas investment aligns with the company's core activities, such as retail, manufacturing, sourcing of precious metals, or branding. Repatriation of profits, dividends, or sale proceeds must adhere to regulatory guidelines, while anti-money laundering, taxation, and transfer pricing norms are also applicable, ensuring legal, financial, and operational transparency in the jewellery company's cross-border investments.

Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992 ("FTDRA 1992"):

The FTDRA 1992 provides the statutory framework governing import and export activities in India, including for jewellery companies, with the objective of promoting foreign trade, regulating trade practices, and ensuring compliance with international agreements. For a jewellery company, the Act enables lawful export of gold, silver, precious stones, and finished jewellery, as well as import of raw materials such as gold, silver, diamonds, gemstones, and specialized machinery. Under the Act, companies must obtain an Importer Exporter Code (IEC) from the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) to conduct cross-border trade. Jewellery companies are also required to comply with applicable export promotion schemes, such as the Merchandise Exports from India Scheme (MEIS) or its successor, the Remission of Duties and Taxes on Export Products (RoDTEP), to avail incentives. Compliance with customs procedures, licensing requirements for restricted or prohibited goods, hallmarking and quality certification standards, and anti-money laundering obligations is mandatory. Non-compliance, including misdeclarations or contravention of trade norms, can attract penalties, fines, or legal action, making adherence to the FTDRA 1992 essential for smooth, lawful international operations.

Foreign Trade Policy 2023:

The Foreign Trade Policy 2023 provides the regulatory framework and incentives for promoting India's exports and regulating imports, with direct implications for jewellery companies engaged in cross-border trade. For a jewellery company, the policy outlines schemes such as the Remission of Duties and Taxes on Export Products (RoDTEP), Export Promotion Capital Goods (EPCG), and Duty Drawback, which help reduce costs on exported gold, silver, diamonds, gemstones, and finished jewellery products. It mandates compliance with quality standards, BIS hallmarking for gold and silver jewellery, and adherence to customs documentation and licensing requirements for importing raw materials, machinery, or precious stones. The policy also encourages value addition under the "Make in India" initiative, promoting domestic manufacturing and processing before export. Additionally, it provides guidance on procedures for claiming export incentives, simplified registration through the Importer Exporter Code (IEC), and enforcement mechanisms to prevent trade fraud, smuggling, or violations of restricted/prohibited goods lists. Compliance ensures jewellery companies are eligible for export benefits, maintain smooth international operations, and contribute to India's broader trade and economic objectives.

LAWS RELATED TO EMPLOYMENT OF MANPOWER

The Code on Wages, 2019:

For jewellery companies, the Code on Wages, 2019—effective from November 21, 2025—has significant implications due to the sector's reliance on a diverse workforce, including skilled artisans (goldsmiths, polishers, setters), shop-floor sales staff, contract labour, and home-based or unorganized workers. Companies must ensure that all categories of employees, whether engaged in manufacturing units, boutiques, or ancillary workshops, are remunerated in accordance with the revised statutory definition of "wages," applicable minimum wages (including notified floor wages), and gender-neutral pay norms, with timely disbursal and correct bonus calculations. Payroll structures should be updated, contractor arrangements reviewed, and historical practices such as piece-rate or cash payments regularized to prevent contraventions. Jewellery companies are required to assess the impact of wage restructuring on margins, inventory costing, and profitability, while disclosing any pending wage, bonus, or equal-remuneration disputes—common in labour-intensive jewellery clusters—as material risks. These must be reflected in restated financial statements and addressed in the Management Discussion & Analysis, ensuring full compliance under the Code.

Industrial Relations Code, 2020:

For jewellery companies, the Industrial Relations Code, 2020—effective from November 21, 2025—is particularly relevant due to the sector's labour-intensive operations, clustered manufacturing units, and reliance on skilled artisans, boutiques staff, and contract or fixed-term workers. Companies must comply with provisions relating to standing orders (applicable to establishments with 300 or more workers), maintain properly documented service conditions, and ensure fixed-term employment contracts are aligned with the Code for seasonal or project-based demands. Special attention is required for past or ongoing labour unrest, union activity in manufacturing hubs, retrenchment, or workshop closures, ensuring adherence to procedural safeguards, compensation norms, and contributions to the Re-skilling Fund where applicable. Jewellery companies are expected to identify and quantify any financial exposure arising from industrial disputes, retrenchment liabilities, or workforce reclassification, and reflect these in financial statements and disclosures, ensuring that operations, cost structures, and continuity of skilled labour are not materially affected by non-compliance under the Industrial Relations Code.

Code on Social Security, 2020:

For jewellery companies, the Code on Social Security, 2020 is particularly significant given the sector's extensive use of contract labour, fixed-term artisans, boutiques staff, and, in certain cases, home-based or unorganized workers engaged in polishing, finishing, or allied activities. Companies must ensure that all eligible employees are properly identified and provided with mandatory social security coverage under the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO), Employees' State Insurance Corporation (ESIC), gratuity, maternity benefits, and employee compensation in accordance with the Code, including expanded gratuity eligibility for fixed-term employees. Proper digitized registration, record-keeping, and timely contribution remittance are essential. Jewellery companies are expected to quantify any historical gaps in provident fund or ESIC contributions, under-provisioning of gratuity liabilities, or non-compliance in contractor-managed labour, and reflect these in restated financial statements. Potential exposure to penalties, interest, or employee claims must be recognized as material risks and disclosed in outstanding litigation records, ensuring that compliance with the Code on Social Security does not give rise to material legal, financial, or operational risk for the business.

Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020:

For jewellery companies, the Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020—effective from November 21, 2025—is particularly relevant due to the sector's reliance on factory-based manufacturing units, small workshops, and contract or migrant labour for processes such as casting, polishing, electroplating, and stone setting, which involve exposure to chemicals, heat, and precision machinery. Companies must ensure compliance with prescribed safety standards, including adequate ventilation, fire-safety systems, periodic health check-ups, welfare facilities, regulated working hours, and statutory leave provisions. Proper registration, licensing, and record-keeping for factories, contract labour, and inter-state migrant workers are mandatory. Any gaps in safety infrastructure, workplace accidents, non-compliance notices, or pending proceedings under the Code can give rise to operational disruptions, financial liabilities, and reputational risk, and therefore require proactive identification, remediation, and disclosure in statutory and financial records to ensure lawful and sustainable operations.

Employees' Deposit Linked Insurance Scheme, 1976:

For a jewellery company, the EDLI Scheme, 1976, provides life insurance coverage to all employees registered under the Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) scheme. All employees working in manufacturing units (goldsmiths, polishers), retail outlets (salespersons, cashiers), or corporate offices who are EPF members are automatically covered under the scheme. In the event of an employee's death during service, the nominee receives a lump sum insurance amount linked to the employee's average monthly wages and EPF balance, subject to the maximum insured limit as periodically revised by the government. The employer contributes a small percentage of the employee's monthly wages (as part of the overall EPF contribution) to the EDLI fund, with no separate employee contribution required. Employees are required to designate nominees, and the jewellery company facilitates claims settlement through the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO), ensuring prompt payment to the nominee. The company must maintain accurate records of employees, wages, and EPF contributions, and submit periodic returns to the EPFO. Additional benefits, such as accidental death-cum-disability coverage, may also be provided, ensuring that all personnel, whether engaged in high-risk manufacturing processes or low-risk retail operations, have guaranteed life insurance protection linked to their employment.

Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020:

The OSHWC Code, 2020, establishes a comprehensive framework for the safety, health, and welfare of employees across all operations of a jewellery company. It applies to employees in manufacturing units (goldsmiths, polishers, casting and finishing staff), retail stores (sales personnel, cashiers), warehouses, and administrative offices. Key requirements include provision of personal protective equipment (PPE), safe working machinery, adequate ventilation, fire safety protocols, periodic health check-ups, and medical facilities for employees exposed to occupational hazards. The Code also mandates regulated working hours, weekly offs, overtime rules, welfare amenities such as rest areas, canteens, creche facilities, proper lighting and ergonomics, as well as training in safe handling of tools, chemicals, and emergency procedures. Jewellery companies must maintain records of employees, incidents, occupational diseases, and compliance reports, which are subject to inspection by authorities, with non-compliance attracting fines or legal action. Compliance ensures a safe and healthy work environment for all employees while fulfilling statutory obligations under the Code

Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986:

The Act prohibits employment of children below 14 years in any jewellery company operations, including manufacturing, retail, or administrative functions. Adolescents aged 14–18 years may only be employed in non-hazardous roles, such as clerical work or packaging, and are strictly barred from hazardous processes like metal melting, chemical polishing, or operating heavy machinery. The Act mandates limits on working hours, rest periods, and prohibition of night work for adolescents. Jewellery companies are required to maintain registers of adolescent workers, verify age proof, ensure safe working conditions, and comply with government inspections. Non-compliance can attract fines, imprisonment, or both. Additionally, companies are encouraged to prevent indirect or contract-based child labour in their supply chain, thereby promoting ethical labour practices and safeguarding legal compliance.

Fire Prevention Laws and The National Building Code of India, 2016:

These laws provide the regulatory framework for fire safety and structural compliance across jewellery company facilities, including manufacturing units, workshops, warehouses, and retail boutiques. Companies must implement fire detection and alarm systems, smoke detectors, sprinklers, fire extinguishers, and clearly marked emergency exits, particularly in areas handling flammable materials such as polishing chemicals or metal dust. Compliance with NBC guidelines on safe occupancy, fire-resistant construction, proper ventilation, and electrical safety is mandatory. Jewellery companies are required to obtain No Objection Certificates (NOCs) from local fire authorities, conduct regular fire drills, train staff on emergency procedures, appoint fire safety officers, and maintain logs of fire safety equipment. Additional precautions include safe storage of combustible materials, separation of chemical and heat-intensive processes, and adherence to prescribed safety distances. Non-compliance can result in fines, closure, or legal liability. Integration with the OSHWC Code ensures a comprehensive approach to occupational safety, protecting employees, visitors, and high-value inventory from fire hazards.

The Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressed) Act, 2013:

This Act establishes a legal framework to prevent, prohibit, and redress sexual harassment of women across all jewellery company operations, including manufacturing units, workshops, retail boutiques, warehouses, and administrative offices. It covers all women employees—permanent, temporary, contractual, or trainees. Jewellery companies are required to create a safe workplace, implement anti-harassment policies, display ICC notices, conduct awareness programs, and constitute an Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) at each establishment with ten or more employees. The ICC handles complaints confidentially, investigates incidents, and recommends remedial action. Employers must ensure non-retaliation, assist complainants, maintain records, and submit annual reports to the District Officer. Non-compliance can result in fines or disciplinary action. Regular training and sensitization programs are mandated to promote a respectful, inclusive, and harassment-free work environment.

Chandigarh Shops and Establishments (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1958:

This Act governs employment terms, working conditions, and employee rights in retail and service establishments, including jewellery boutiques, offices, warehouses, and workshops in Chandigarh. It covers all categories of employees—permanent, temporary, and contractual. Jewellery companies must comply with prescribed working hours, weekly offs, overtime pay, leave entitlements, and public holidays. The Act requires maintenance of employee registers, employment contracts, and age verification for apprentices or trainees. It also mandates safe working conditions, provision of drinking water, sanitation, and welfare facilities, particularly in workshops handling polishing, casting, or chemicals. Timely payment of wages, allowances, and overtime is required, and authorities may inspect establishments to enforce compliance. Non-compliance can attract fines or legal action. Overall, the Act ensures that jewellery companies in Chandigarh operate with regulated work practices, safeguarding employee rights and maintaining a safe and structured work environment.

LAWS RELATING TO INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Intellectual property in India is safeguarded under both common law and statutory frameworks. Statutory protection includes patents under the Patents Act, 1970, copyrights under the Copyright Act, 1957, and trademarks under the Trade Marks Act, 1999, which provide civil and criminal remedies against infringement. India is also a signatory to key international IP treaties, including the Patent Cooperation Treaty, 1970, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, 1883, the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, 1886, the Universal Copyright Convention, 1952, and the International Convention for the Protection of Performers, Producers of Phonograms and Broadcasting Organizations, 1961. As a member of the World Trade Organization, India adheres to the TRIPS Agreement, ensuring compliance with global IP standards. This framework enables jewellery companies to protect designs, trademarks, branding, and other intellectual assets, while providing legal recourse against infringement.

Trade Marks Act, 1999 ("Trade Marks Act"):

The Trade Marks Act, 1999 provides the legal framework for protecting brand identity, logos, designs, and other distinctive marks of a jewellery company. This includes registration and protection of trademarks for brand names, hallmarks, logos, and product-specific marks used in boutiques, packaging, or marketing. Jewellery companies must ensure trademarks are distinctive, not deceptively similar to existing marks, and capable of differentiating their products in the market. The Act grants exclusive rights to use, license, or prevent unauthorized use of registered marks, including against counterfeiting or imitation in retail, e-commerce, or promotional activities. Legal remedies include injunctions, damages, and seizure of infringing goods. Trademarks are valid for ten years and can be renewed indefinitely, with companies required to maintain records and monitor expiry. Well-known trademarks enjoy protection even without formal registration. Compliance with procedural requirements, including filing applications and responding to objections with the Trademark Registry, enables jewellery companies to safeguard brand reputation, secure market presence, and prevent misuse of their intellectual property in domestic and international markets.

Copyright Act, 1957 and the rules made thereunder:

The Copyright Act, 1957, and the rules made thereunder, provide legal protection for original works of authorship, including jewellery designs, CAD models, sketches, artistic creations, marketing content, promotional materials, and software used by the company. Copyright arises automatically upon creation, though registration with the Copyright Office enhances enforceability. The Act grants the company or designer exclusive rights to reproduce, distribute, display, sell, or license these works and prevents unauthorized copying or commercial exploitation. Remedies for infringement include injunctions, damages, and seizure of infringing materials. Moral rights enable designers to claim attribution and prevent distortion of their works, which is particularly relevant for signature jewellery collections. Copyright for artistic works lasts for the life of the author plus 60 years, while corporate works such as software or advertisements have defined terms. The company must also ensure compliance with third-party copyrights when using external content and can license its own works for collaborations, marketing, or e-commerce. This framework allows the jewellery company to safeguard creativity, original designs, and digital assets while protecting its intellectual property rights in domestic and international markets.

Design Act, 2000:

The Designs Act, 2000, provides legal protection for the aesthetic and ornamental aspects of jewellery, safeguarding original patterns, motifs, gemstone arrangements, carvings, and decorative elements from unauthorized copying or imitation. Protection under the Act requires that designs be new or original, applied to an article, and pertain to visual appearance rather than functional features. Registration with the Designs Registry grants the company exclusive rights to manufacture, sell, or license the design and prevents others from reproducing or commercially exploiting it without permission. The protection term is 10 years from the date of registration, extendable by 5 years. Applications must include representations or photographs of the design and payment of prescribed fees. Remedies for infringement include injunctions, damages, and seizure of infringing jewellery. This framework enables the jewellery company to secure its ornamental innovations, uphold brand prestige, deter counterfeiting, and maintain competitive advantage in domestic and international markets.

Patents Act, 1970:

The Patents Act, 1970, provides legal protection for inventions and innovative processes in jewellery manufacturing, design, and technology, ensuring exclusivity and commercial advantage. Patentable subject matter includes novel methods of metal processing, gemstone setting, alloy formulation, CAD/CAM-based manufacturing techniques, and unique tools or machinery used in production. To be patentable, inventions must be new, involve an inventive step, and be industrially applicable. Filing with the Patent Office requires disclosure of technical details, examination, and payment of prescribed fees. Registered patents confer exclusive rights to manufacture, use, sell, or license the invention for 20 years from the filing date, while infringement remedies include injunctions, damages, and seizure of infringing products. Provisions for compulsory licensing ensure public interest, and maintenance obligations, including timely fee payments and record-keeping, are required to retain patent rights. This framework enables the jewellery company to protect technological innovations, foster creativity, safeguard investment, and maintain a competitive edge in domestic and international markets.

OTHER GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Act, 2006 ("MSME Act"):

The MSME Development Act, 2006 provides a framework to promote, develop, and protect micro, small, and medium enterprises engaged in jewellery manufacturing, wholesale, and allied services. Jewellery units are classified based on investment in plant, machinery, or equipment, and eligible units can obtain Udyam registration to access statutory benefits, credit facilities, and government schemes. The Act facilitates priority lending, subsidized loans, and working capital support, ensuring timely payments from buyers with recourse to the Micro and Small Enterprises Facilitation Council in case of delays. It also promotes technological adoption, including CAD/CAM systems, and skill development for artisans, while providing access to government exhibitions, marketing assistance, and export incentives. Compliance with registration, record-keeping, and reporting obligations is required to retain benefits. This framework ensures MSME jewellery companies receive financial, technological, and legal support, fostering growth, innovation, and sustainability in the sector.

General Criminal Laws:

Jewellery companies and their directors, officers, and employees are subject to India's general criminal laws, including the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023, the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023, and the Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam, 2023. These statutes govern substantive criminal offences, procedural safeguards, and the admissibility and evaluation of evidence, and are particularly relevant in contexts such as gold or gemstone fraud, misrepresentation, employee misconduct, money laundering, regulatory non-compliance, or workplace incidents. Non-compliance may expose the company and its personnel to civil or criminal liability, penalties, or regulatory action, potentially impacting business operations, financial condition, and reputation. Accordingly, implementation of robust internal controls, employee training, and legal compliance mechanisms is critical to mitigate such risks.

State Laws:

Jewellery companies operating in Chandigarh are subject to state-specific regulations, primarily under the Chandigarh Shops and Establishments (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1958, as well as local fire safety, labour welfare, and municipal compliance requirements. All boutiques, manufacturing units, workshops, warehouses, and administrative offices must register under the Act, maintain statutory employee records including proof of age for apprentices or trainees, and ensure compliance with prescribed working hours, overtime, leave, public holidays, and timely payment of wages for goldsmiths, polishers, sales staff, and clerical employees. Companies must adhere to local health, sanitation, and occupational safety standards, provide drinking water, restrooms, and safe working conditions for chemical polishing, metal casting, and other manufacturing processes, and comply with fire safety and building regulations under the National Building Code of India (NBC), 2016, including installation of fire extinguishers, emergency exits, and obtaining necessary fire NOCs. Compliance with taxation and licensing requirements, including GST, professional tax, municipal trade licenses, and weights and measures standards, is mandatory. Local authorities may conduct inspections, and any violation of employment, safety, or municipal regulations can attract fines, closure orders, or legal action, ensuring that jewellery companies in Chandigarh operate within lawful, safe, and regulated frameworks.

Municipality Laws:

For a jewellery company operating in Chandigarh, compliance with municipality laws primarily involves regulations issued by the Chandigarh Municipal Corporation (CMC) governing trade licensing, building use, taxation, public safety, and environmental standards. All boutiques, workshops, and storage facilities must obtain valid trade licenses with timely renewals, while premises must adhere to the National Building Code (NBC) and local zoning rules to ensure structural safety, fire exits, emergency routes, and commercial occupancy compliance. Companies are required to maintain health, sanitation, and proper disposal of chemical or metallic waste from polishing and casting operations, along with adequate employee and customer facilities. Fire safety measures, including installation of extinguishers, smoke detectors, and emergency evacuation protocols, must meet municipal norms, with periodic inspections by authorities. Signage and advertisements must comply with CMC regulations regarding size, location, and illumination, while property taxes, water charges, and other local levies must be timely paid. The CMC retains inspection and enforcement powers, and non-compliance may attract fines, closure orders, or legal action, ensuring that jewellery operations in Chandigarh remain lawful, safe, and socially responsible.

The accounting policies have been framed, keeping in view the fundamental accounting assumptions of Going Concern. Consistency and Accrual, as also basic considerations of Prudence, Substance over form, and Materiality. Such reclassifications have been carried out to ensure uniformity and enhance comparability across all the financial periods presented.

Note C Summary of significant accounting policies:

a) Use of estimates:

The preparation of Restated financial statement in conformity with Accounting Standards requires the management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts, at the end of the reporting period. Although these estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events and actions, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in the outcomes requiring a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets or liabilities in future periods.

b) Property, Plant & Equipment and Intangible Assets:

Property, Plant & Equipment and Intangible Assets are stated at cost of acquisition or construction includes related expenditure less accumulated depreciation. Cost includes purchase price and all other attributable cost of bringing the asset to working condition for intended use.

Subsequent expenditure relating to Property, Plant and Equipment is capitalized only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost can be measured reliably. Such expenditure is added to the cost of the respective asset and depreciated over its estimated useful life, as determined by management based on its best estimate.

If significant parts of an item of Property, Plant & Equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of Property, Plant & Equipment.

An item of Property, Plant & Equipment and Intangible Assets is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising from the disposal of the asset is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

Depreciation on Property, Plant & Equipment and Intangible Assets are provided on the Written - Down Value Method over the useful lives of assets as per the provisions of the Companies Act 2013 and according to the rates prescribed under part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act 2013.

Particulars	Management estimate of useful life (Years)	Useful life as per Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013
Building	30	30
Office Equipment	5 - 10	5
Furniture & Fixture	5 - 10	10
Vehicles	5 - 15	8
Plant & Equipment	5 - 12	3 - 15
Electrical Equipment	10	10
Computers	3	3
Software	6	3 - 10

Depreciation for assets purchased/sold during a period is proportionately charged as per the usage in the particular financial year.

c) Borrowing Costs:

Borrowing costs includes interest and other costs incurred in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of a qualifying asset which necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use are capitalised as part of the cost of that asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur.

Borrowing costs that are not directly attributable to the acquisition, construction, or production of a qualifying asset are recognized as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred. Impairment losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. An impairment loss recognised in prior periods is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount, provided that the increased carrying amount of the asset does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior periods. Such reversal is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The amount of current tax reflects the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received after considering the uncertainty, if any, related to income taxes. It is measured using tax rates (and tax laws) enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of the assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for taxation purposes.

Deferred tax asset is recognised for the carry forward of unused tax losses and unused tax credits to the extent that it is probable on the basis of reasonable certainty that future taxable profit will be available against which the unused tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised. Therefore, the Company recognises a deferred tax asset only to the extent that it has sufficient taxable temporary differences or there is convincing other evidence that sufficient taxable profit will be available against which such deferred tax asset can be realized.

h) Provisions and Contingent Liabilities & Contingent Assets:

A provision is recognized when the company has a present obligation as a result of past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are not discounted to their present value, and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the reporting date. These estimates are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

A contingent liability exists when there is a possible but not probable obligation, or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources, or a present obligation whose amount cannot be estimated reliably. Contingent liabilities do not warrant provisions, but are disclosed unless the possibility of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent assets usually arise from unplanned or other unexpected events that give rise to the possibility of an inflow of economic benefits to the entity. Contingent assets are recognized when the realisation of income is virtually certain, then the related asset is not a contingent asset and its recognition is appropriate.

i) Earnings Per Share:

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit/(loss) after tax (including the post-tax effect of extra ordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period reflects changes in the shareholders' capital. It is determined by taking the number of equity shares outstanding at the beginning of the period and adjusting it for the number of equity shares issued or bought back during the period, weighted by the period for which such shares were outstanding. The time-weighting factor is calculated as the number of days the shares were outstanding divided by the total number of days in the period.

The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding is adjusted retrospectively for the effects of bonus issues, share splits and similar events that increase the number of equity shares outstanding without a corresponding change in resources. Such adjustments are made as if the event had occurred at the beginning of the earliest period presented.

Diluted earnings per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares, if any.

j) Employee Benefits:

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are recognized as an expense as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid in respect of salaries and wages, short term compensated absences and bonus etc., where the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee, and the amount of obligation can be estimated reliably.

Post-employment benefits

- Defined contribution plans

A defined contribution plan is a post-employment benefit plan under which the company pays fixed contributions and has no legal or constructive obligation to pay further amounts. The Company makes specified contributions towards these schemes such as Superannuation Fund, Provident Fund, Employee State Insurance and other funds as determined under relevant schemes and/or statue. Obligations for contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an employee benefit expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the periods during which the related services are rendered by employees. Currently, the Company is not under any legal or statutory obligation to make contributions towards a Provident Fund scheme. Consequently, no expenses or liabilities have been recognized on this account for the reported periods.

- Defined Benefit plans

Gratuity is a defined benefit post-employment benefit plan. The Company's obligation towards gratuity is determined at each Balance Sheet date on the basis of an independent actuarial valuation carried out using the Projected Unit Credit Method in accordance with AS 15.

The actuarial valuation is based on financial and demographic assumptions such as discount rate, future salary escalation, employee attrition, retirement age and mortality rates. The present value of the defined benefit obligation, after adjusting for the fair value of plan assets, if any, is recognised as a liability or asset in the Balance Sheet. The actuarially determined liability is recognised under current and non-current provisions, as applicable.

Current service cost, interest cost, past service cost and actuarial gains or losses arising on the defined benefit obligation are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise. Gains or losses arising on settlement or curtailment of the gratuity plan are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss when such settlement or curtailment occurs. Deferred tax asset, wherever applicable, is recognised on the deductible temporary differences arising from the gratuity provision in accordance with the Company's accounting policy on taxes on income.

The Company recognizes the net obligation of the Gratuity Plan in the Balance Sheet as an asset or liability, respectively in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS15) 'Employee Benefits'. The company's gratuity plan is unfunded. The company does not allow carry forward of earned leave and the same needs to be consumed/encashed within the same financial year.

k) Statement of Cash flow:

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit/ (loss) for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information and the understanding of the management.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash in hand. As of the reporting dates, the Company does not hold any bank balances, demand deposits, or highly liquid short-term investments.

l) Extraordinary, Exceptional, Prior Period Items and Changes in Accounting Policies:

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation and presentation of the Restated Financial Statements are consistent with those followed in the previous financial years. There have been no changes in the significant accounting policies applied by the Company during the periods covered by these financial statements.

Income or expenses that arise from events or transactions that are clearly distinct from the ordinary activities of the group are classified as extraordinary items. Specific disclosure of such events/transactions is made in the financial statements. Similarly, any external event beyond the control of the group, significantly impacting income or expense, is also treated as extraordinary item and disclosed as such.

On certain occasions, the size, type or incidence of an item of income or expense, pertaining to the ordinary activities of the group, is such that its disclosure improves an understanding of the performance of the group. Such income or expense is classified as an exceptional item and accordingly disclosed in the notes to accounts.

m) Contingencies and events occurring after the Balance Sheet Date:

Assets and liabilities are adjusted for events occurring after the Balance Sheet date that provide additional evidence materially affecting the determination of the amounts relating to conditions existing at the Balance Sheet date. Material events occurring after the Balance Sheet date which are of an obliging nature and relate to conditions that arose subsequent to the Balance Sheet date are not adjusted in the financial statements but are disclosed in the notes, if their non-disclosure would affect the ability of the users of the financial statements to make proper evaluations and decisions.

n) Leases:

At the inception of a contract, the Company assesses and classifies each lease as either a finance lease or an operating lease based on whether it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incident to ownership. A lease is classified as a finance lease if (i) ownership transfer by the end of the term, (ii) the presence of a bargain purchase option, (iii) a lease term covering the major part of the economic life, (iv) present value of the minimum lease payments substantially equals the fair value of the asset at inception, (v) the underlying assets are of a specialized nature—are met; otherwise, it is classified as an operating lease.

The Company as a lessee:

- Operating Lease –
  Leases where the lessor effectively retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the leased assets are classified as operating leases. The Company has taken certain premises on operating lease arrangements. Lease payments under operating leases are recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term, unless the payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases. Initial direct costs incurred specifically to negotiate and arrange an operating lease are recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

- Finance Lease-

  The Company recognizes assets acquired under finance leases at the inception (Signing of Lease deed) of the lease as Leasehold Assets at amounts equal to the total obligations as per lease dead. Initial Recognition: Leasehold assets are capitalized under Property, Plant & Equipment or in Investments in Immovable property depending upon the utilization of the said leasehold assets. In case the leasehold assets is put to use for the business, then it is depreciated over the shorter of the lease term or their useful life, consistent with the Company's depreciation policy.

Current vs. Non-Current Classification: The portion of lease liability payable within 12 months is classified as Current Liability, and the balance is classified as Non-Current Liability. The Company does not have any outstanding obligation under finance leases as on 31st March, 2026.

SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENTS SUBSEQUENT TO LAST AUDITED RESTATED BALANCE SHEET

In the opinion of the Board of Directors of our Company, since the date of March 31, 2026 as disclosed in this Red Herring Prospectus, there have not arisen any circumstance that materially or adversely affect or are likely to affect the profitability of our Company or the value of its assets or its ability to pay its material liabilities within the next twelve months.

FACTORS AFFECTING OUR RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Our business operations and financial performance are influenced by a combination of internal and external factors that affect ornaments production, design, and market demand. Key factors that may impact our results of operations include the following:

1. Quality of Raw Material

   The purity of gold (karatage) and the grading of diamonds (4Cs: Cut, Clarity, Color, Carat) are critical to maintaining product value and customer trust. Any compromise in the quality of sourced bullion or gemstones can lead to sales returns and severe brand damage.

2. Consumer spending and general economic and market conditions

   While we are engaged in the business of selling modern every day and lifestyle diamond, gold, platinum, gemstone jewellery, our success partially depends to a significant extent on customer confidence and spending, which is influenced by general economic condition and discretionary income levels. Many factors affect the level of customer confidence and spending in the retail sector, including recession, inflation, political uncertainty, availability of consumer credit, taxation and unemployment. Our performance may decline during recessionary periods or in other periods where one or more macro-economic factors, or potential macro-economic factors, negatively affect the level of customer confidence and spending.

3. Volatility in Commodity Prices

   Sharp fluctuations in international prices directly impact profit margins and consumer buying behavior. While rising prices may increase the value of existing inventory, sudden spikes often deter customers from making new purchases.

4. Design Innovation and Craftsmanship

   Consumer preferences constantly shift between traditional heavy jewellery and modern, lightweight, or "everyday wear" designs. Failure to innovate or maintain high-quality craftsmanship (Karigari) can result in slow-moving stock and loss of market share.

5. Inventory Management and Security

   Efficiently managing a high-value inventory is vital to minimize carrying costs and ensure liquidity. Due to the high value of the products, any lapses in security or inventory tracking can lead to significant financial losses.

6. Supply Chain and Sourcing

   Timely procurement of diamonds & solitaire from trusted suppliers is essential for uninterrupted operations. Disruptions in the global or domestic supply chain can increase procurement costs and delay product delivery.

7. Regulatory Environment

   The industry is strictly governed by hallmarking mandates, GST regulations, and anti-money laundering laws (PMLA). Changes in import duties on the diamonds or stricter compliance requirements for cash transactions can increase operational costs.

8. Cost Structure

   Profitability is influenced by the cost of procurement, making charges, labour for artisans, and boutique overheads. Increasing costs in any of these areas without a corresponding increase in selling price will squeeze net margins.

9. Competitions

   We may face significant competition in our business. An inability to compete effectively may lead to loss of business or reduced operating margins, if there is failure to successfully upgrade our product portfolio, from time to time.

10. Macroeconomic Factors

    General economic health, inflation, and disposable income levels dictate the luxury spending capacity of the population. During economic downturns, jewellery—being a discretionary spend—is often the first category to see a reduction in demand.

    Any adverse movement in one or more of the above factors may affect our production capabilities, sales performance, and financial results.

As of March 31, 2025, short-term borrowings stood at ₹1,147.54 lakhs, representing a 19.59% increase over ₹942.81 lakhs as of March 31, 2024, driven by unsecured loans availed from the Directors of the Company during the fiscal year.

As of March 31, 2025, trade payables stood at ₹1,120.96 lakhs, reflecting a decrease of 20.85% from ₹1,416.21 lakhs as of March 31, 2024, driven by a rationalization of supplier relationships and a transition to revised procurement terms during the year. Inventories Inventories increased by 77.19% to ₹4,358.15 lakhs as of March 31, 2026, from ₹2,459.56 lakhs as of March 31, 2025. This significant increase was primarily driven by the requirement of adding more jewellery collections & designs in ready stock to boost sales and increase in inventory cost due to rise in spot rates of commodity. As of March 31, 2025, inventories stood at ₹2,459.56 lakhs, a moderate increase of 4.69% over ₹2,349.27 lakhs as of March 31, 2024, reflecting an early-stage strategic build-up to support expanding retail demand.

Trade Receivables

Trade receivables decreased by 88.43% to ₹16.97 lakhs as of March 31, 2026, from ₹146.62 lakhs as of March 31, 2025, driven by higher retail sales volumes and a strategy focused on liquidity optimization. The overall reduction in trade receivables is further attributable to fluctuations in gold prices during the year, which prompted the Company to adopt a more cautious approach to extending credit. Customers were encouraged to settle transactions more promptly to mitigate exposure to price volatility, resulting in faster realizations and a shorter credit cycle. As of March 31, 2025, trade receivables stood at ₹146.62 lakhs, an increase of 258.78% over ₹40.87 lakhs as of March 31, 2024, primarily on account of sales recorded at the close of the fiscal year.

The increase in revenue reflects a combination of strategic operational improvements and a responsive approach to market dynamics. The company is able to increased earnings by ensuring high-demand inventory was available as sales mix of diamond jewellery is increased as compared to previous year. By focusing on better stock management and wider reach, we captured more value from every sale. This approach turned market price hikes into a direct advantage for our bottom line.

Sales volume increased across diamond-studded jewellery, and platinum jewellery with notable growth in demand for gold jewellery embedded with diamonds, supported by favourable price movements in gold and diamonds. Our premium product mix and focus on design innovation contributed to higher average order values. Revenue growth was further driven by retail expansion, with our exclusive boutique performing better due to refined merchandising, improved stock rotation, and targeted promotional activities. 6. Other Expenses

Other expenses decreased marginally from ₹271.15 lakhs in FY 2024–25 to ₹252.19 lakhs in FY 2025–26, mainly due to reduction in advertisement, sales promotion & marketing expense on account of getting advantage of aggressive marketing expenses incurred in FY 2024-25 as it was relatively new business then. These expenses come down to ₹137.25 Lakhs in FY 2025-26 from ₹ 152.48 lakhs in FY 2024-25. These expenses mainly comprised selling, distribution, administrative, and marketing costs. This decrease in other expenses was partially offset by increase in rental expense of boutique, Audit fees and other miscellaneous expenses.

As a proportion of total income, Other Expenses grew to 5.50% in FY 2025–26 compared to 11.53% in the previous year, indicating efficient control over overheads.

PROFITABILITY

1. Profit Before Tax

Profit Before Tax increased from ₹ 367.30 lakhs in FY 2024–25 to ₹ 1,274.08 lakhs in FY 2025–26, registering a growth of 246.88%. The increase was primarily driven by higher revenue from operations, supported by higher margin product mix and improved realization along with price appreciation in the commodity spot rates. Further, lower other expenses (reduced from ₹271.15 lakhs in FY 2024–25 to ₹252.19 lakhs in FY 2025–26) and stable depreciation and amortization charges helped in controlling fixed costs.

In addition, the Company undertook planned inventory build-up during FY 2025–26 to support expansion of business, introduction of new designs and expected demand from customers. While this resulted in a higher negative figure under changes in inventories, the same reflects strengthening of operating scale rather than inefficiency. Overall, the combination of revenue growth, cost discipline and operating leverage led to improvement in operating margins and a significant increase in PBT in FY 2025–26.

2. Tax

Tax expense increased from ₹94.13 lakhs in FY 2024–25 to ₹337.55 lakhs in FY 2025–26, in line with the significant increase in Profit Before Tax during the year. The higher tax outgo primarily reflects higher taxable profits arising from improved operating performance and margins. The tax provision has been computed in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Income-tax Act, 1961 and prevailing tax rates, and is commensurate with the Company's enhanced profitability in FY 2025–26. It also includes tax paid in excess of provision made for preceding year and deferred tax assets has been created on account of provision made for gratuity expense.

3. Profit After Tax

Profit After Tax (PAT) increased from ₹273.16 lakhs in FY 2024–25 to ₹936.53 lakhs in FY 2025–26, registering a growth of 242.85%. The improvement in PAT was driven by higher operating profitability on account of higher margin sales mix, supported by growth in revenues, better realizations, and effective cost management across key expense heads. In addition, expansion of the Company's market presence and product offerings, along with favourable trends in gold prices, contributed positively to margins. As a result, the PAT margin improved from 11.61% in FY 2024–25 to 20.42% in FY 2025–26.

2. Other Income

3. Employee Benefits Expenses

Employee benefit expenses marginally decreased from ₹95.77 lakhs in FY 2023–24 to ₹89.63 lakhs in FY 2024–25. 4. Finance Cost

Finance cost decreased from ₹136.60 lakhs in FY 2023–24 to ₹100.13 lakhs in FY 2024–25 primarily due to reduction in interest rates on working capital facilities on account of shift from government bank to private bank, during last few days of FY 2023-24 along with lower financial charges as compared to FY 2023-24.

7. Total Expenditure

Total expenditure decreased from ₹ 2,277.34 lakhs in FY 2023–24 to ₹ 1,985.19 lakhs in FY 2024–25, primarily on account of decrease in purchase of traded goods & sale of opening stock and reduction in Finance cost in line with the growth in business operations. However, as a percentage of total income, total expenditure reduced from 98.18% to 84.39%, reflecting improved cost efficiency and operating & financial leverage.

The improvement was primarily driven by lower expenditure mainly purchase of traded goods, supported by better realizations and increased gross margins on account of higher sales of diamond jewellery having higher margins as compared to previous year. Further, effective cost management across employee benefits, other operating expenses and finance costs contributed to improved operating efficiency, resulting in an increase in profitability during FY 2024–25.

2. Tax

The current tax expense increased from ₹11.01 lakhs in FY 2023–24 to ₹94.13 lakhs in FY 2024–25, reflecting higher taxable profits during the year. RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP AND OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 ("FEMA"). While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are the Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") and Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade ("DPIIT").

The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on Foreign Direct Investments ("FDI") through press notes and press releases. The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade issued the Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy notified by the DPIIT File No. 5(2)/2020-FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020, with effect from October 15, 2020 (the "FDI Policy"), which consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT or the DPIIT that were in force and effect prior to October 15, 2020. The Government of India proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the FDI Policy will be valid until the DPIIT issues an updated circular.

Under the current applicable sectoral cap, foreign direct investment in micro and small enterprises is subject to sectoral caps, entry routes and other sectoral regulations. At present our Company is in the business of Infrastructure Solutions, Digital Business Solutions and Consulting Solutions. As these sectors/activities are not specifically listed under the FDI Policy 2020, it shall come under the Permitted Sectors category, hence 100 % foreign direct investment through automatic route is permitted subject to applicable laws/regulations, security and other conditionalities.

Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country ("Restricted Investors"), will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has also made a similar amendment to the FEMA Rules. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank of fund in India. Each Bidder should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period.
